Premier Discusses Finances At Sidney; Jackson Nominated

Islands Liberals Hold Convention; Dr. MacLean Recalls Old Campaign Cries of Conservatives; Alex McDonald Re-elected President

Sidney, May 18.—Premier MacLean, speaking at the mass meeting in Matthews Hall here last night, following the Island nomination convention which chose M. B. Jackson as Liberal candidate declared that the voters should decide the question of whom they should support by considering the policy and record of the two parties, rather than by harkening to the campaign of mud-slinging and calumination being carried on by Conservative speakers.

Dr. MacLean, dealing with party records, reviewed his under Conservative policy vast tracts of lands were alienated to speculators, who, in order to make big profits, put big burdens on the shoulders of real settlers. He dealt with the low credit of the Province under Conservative administration as shown by the low prices at which B.C. bonds sold, compared with the prices obtained by the other provinces of Canada at the same time.

PENSIONS AND WAGES

The Premier pointed out that the Conservative Government had neglected social legislation, and when it was under the control of practically the same men as the Conservatives went out of office. Why, you, the taxpayers paid. That is why these questions are so important to you.

"The question you must ask yourselves at the next election is are you going to support the candidate of a Government that has given a business administration, or the candidate of the party that nearly put the country on the rocks," the Premier went on. "And who pays when the country nearly goes into the hands of a receiver, as it did when the Conservatives went out of office? Why, you, the taxpayers paid. That is why these questions are so important to you."

SOUND MEN

Dr. MacLean named some of the successful business men who were Liberals in B.C., under the present Government of the Province. He mentioned General Odium, financial man of Vancouver; Chris McNeil, successful lumberman; A. E. Munn, another successful lumberman; David Macpherson, from Grand Fork; A. D. Paterson of Delta, and Sid Leary from Slocan.

As for the progress made by agriculture in B.C., under the present Government, he quoted the contrasting figures: in 1918 B.C.'s agricultural production was $22,000,000; in 1927 it had risen to $77,000,000.

WILLIAM HAYWOOD DIES IN MOSCOW

Was One of Founders of I.W.W.; Centre of Famous Trial in Idaho in 1907

Moscow, May 18.—William D. (Big Bill) Haywood, one of the founders of the Industrial Workers of the World in the United States, died in Moscow to-day after a lengthy illness.

The chief high light in Haywood's career was his trial in Idaho in 1907. The incidents reached back a number of years. In 1899 labor troubles broke out in the Bunker Hill and Sullivan mine fields, during which the mines were wrecked. Governor Steunenberg of Idaho called for Federal troops and about 800 suspected miners were placed in a stockade. The bitter feeling engendered culminated in the assassination of Steunenberg December 30, 1905. On the confession of Harry Orchard, the officers of the Western Federation of Miners were accused of complicity in the murder, were secretly arrested in Colorado and were taken to Idaho and imprisoned. The trial of Haywood, secretary of the Miners' Federation, one of the men accused, attracted nationwide attention. The testimony included a statement by Orchard that he had killed Steunenberg and others at the instigation of Haywood. The state's efforts to connect Haywood with the murder failed, however, and he was acquitted. In 1908 Orchard pleaded guilty. His death sentence later was commuted to life imprisonment.

NEW YORK MAN FOUND SHOT IN HOTEL ROOM

Coroner's Inquiry Monday Into Death of W. P. Rauch

An investigation into the death of W. P. Rauch, of New York, who was found dead in his room in a local hotel yesterday afternoon, will be conducted Monday morning at 10 o'clock at the funeral home of S. J. Curry and Son, by Coroner E. C. Hart.

Mr. Rauch was found yesterday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock by the manager of the hotel. Following several attempts of the chambermaid to gain entrance, the manager forced his way into the room and discovered the New York visitor lying crumpled up on the floor, face downward, in a pool of blood. There was a large wound in the chest and back caused by the passage of a bullet through the body from the front. A United States army 45 revolver was found on the bed. The dead man was some distance from the bed and was attired in his pajamas.

Rauch arrived at the hotel from Seattle, on May 12. He was seen around the rotunda quite frequently and seemed to be in the best of spirits.

Among the man's clothing was found $2,000 in travelers' cheques besides $165 in cash.

A letter addressed to his wife in New York was also found and is now in the hands of the police.

Vancouver Commission Hears Testimony About Protection of Gambling

Vancouver, May 18.—Recalled to the witness stand at the Vancouver police inquiry this forenoon, Joe Yem said Chow Wong Lum, his partner in a gambling house, had told him he paid protection money to Detective Sergeant George McLaughlin and Inspector John Jackson of the morality squad.

Last Tuesday Joe Yem was on the stand and was asked to name the police officers involved when he was stopped by protests from counsel representing the officers.

To-day Yem swore Chow Wong Lum had named the police officers in explaining an entry of $50 a month which Yem was ordered to enter in the books of the gambling house at 846 Main Street. The sum was entered as "expense money," he declared.

Cross-examined by W. W. B. MacInnes, counsel for Shue Moy, alleged gambling king, Joe Yem declared there was no other person present when Chow Wong Lum made the statement in October, 1927.

The witness swore Chow Wong Lum told him he wanted to open a 1-2-3 game, and that the expenses would have to be increased, as $50 a month was not enough.

The partnership between the witness and Chow Wong Lum was then dissolved.

BETTER FARMING METHODS URGED

Alister Forbes of Cobble Hill States More Efficient Work Needed

"Better seeds, better livestock and better machinery is needed in the agricultural industry on Vancouver Island," declared Alister Forbes of Cobble Hill, concluding an address before the industrial group of the Chamber of Commerce to-day.

Mr. Forbes discussed various phases of agriculture as they affected the island.

Agriculture, he explained, is the art, science or industry of utilizing the products of the soil for the maintenance of the human race. It has from the earliest ages been conducted on two fundamentally different lines—the intensive farm and extensive farm. The extensive farm is nomadic or pastoral as conducted in Australia, the Argentine and British Columbia's range lands. In this farm the ground is only used once or once in a long time.

Under the intensive farm the same land is used continually for the maintenance of flocks and raising of crops.

AUTOIST LOSES LIFE IN FRASER

J. W. Whistler of Mission City, B.C., Drowned in River

Mission City, B.C., May 18.—John W. Whistler, twenty-nine, of this city, was drowned when his car plunged into the Fraser River at 11 o'clock last night. About to return home after visiting at the residence of Captain A. A. Mackenzie on the river road, Mr. Whistler apparently lost control of his car. Instead of turning to the left, the car turned to the right, going over the river bank at considerable speed and dropping upside down into ten feet of water.

H. Bailey, who lives nearby, heard a cry as the car disappeared. Two wrecking cars were obtained, but it was two hours before the Whistler car was found and the body recovered.

The highway will have a width of twenty-four feet, and will pass through a fine timber area. To avoid cutting more of this timber than is necessary, the clearing is to be somewhat narrower than is customary. The effect of the close bordering of trees will be most impressive, making the Fraser Coast Road one of the finest scenic drives on the Pacific Coast.

The highway will have unusually easy grades and gentle curves, these factors contributing greatly to the comfort of motor drivers.

The clearing operations will prove the heaviest portion of the undertaking, and the minister expects that this will be carried through to Port Renfrew during the present year.

Grading and ditching will be carried out with labor saving machinery of the latest type, including gasoline operated shovels. Nevertheless this work will not be able to make the progress expected of the clearing gangs, and Fall and Winter rains will find the highway still uncompleted.

The final section leading to Port Renfrew will be undertaken next Spring and is expected to be completed early in the Summer of 1929.

No graveling or surfacing will be commenced this year, being scheduled to be carried out in one operation next Spring.

CONSTRUCTION OF WEST COAST ROAD STARTED

Bridging of Jordan River Now in Hand; Gangs Working on Clearing Operations

Construction of the West Coast Road connecting Victoria and Port Renfrew, involving creation of twenty-four miles of highway is now well in hand, Hon. Dr. Sutherland, Minister of Public Works declared this morning.

Bridging of the Jordan River has been commenced, and a substantial structure will be installed as fast as the work can be carried out. Several gangs of men are working in the bush to clear the right of way for the new highway, and the clearing, grading and ditching operations, construction of the many small bridges required is to be carried on behind the clearing gangs.

VETERAN INDIAN ARMY CAPTAIN VICTORIOUS IN GREAT BATTLE

Retired Officer Wins Fight of Many Years Against Indigestion and Constipation Caused by Long Service in Tropical Countries

Uses "Husky" Regularly and Feels Better Than He Has in a Long Time

The enemy has succumbed to the valor of "Husky," the marvelous medicine, and Captain A. R. O'Keefe of 940 Pen-der Street, West-Vancouver, B.C., has won his long fight against ill health, indigestion and constipation. Captain O'Keefe had a long and honorable career in the Regular Indian Army, with most of his service in the tropics, and the hot sun and tropical climate injured his health. He tried for many years after coming to Canada to relieve his deep-seated indigestion, but was not successful until he started to use the "Husky" treatment.

Now Captain O'Keefe is the picture of health and he pays a sincere tribute to the great medicine that has restored his lost health. Captain O'Keefe says: "I have suffered the pangs of indigestion and constipation ever since I left India. I have also been troubled with gas on my stomach and sour stomach, and have tried many remedies without success."

"A few months ago, I tried a bottle of 'Husky,' which had been recommended to me, and a single bottle made me feel so much better that I decided to take a full 'Husky' treatment. I now take 'Husky' regularly and I have at last won my fight for new health. I am feeling fit and look better than I have in a long time. I am glad to recommend 'Husky' to my friends, for it has helped me greatly."

Hundreds of thousands have found the same health and happiness in this great medicine and dealers are constantly receiving recommendations and testimonials praising the medicine. Indigestion, sour stomach, gas on the stomach, bloating after meals, rheumatic pains, humbug, disordered kidneys and torpid liver all disappear under the kindly and magic influence of "Husky," and the vital organs of the body are helped to function properly again. Ill health, especially disorders of the system, is needlessly foolish when this great preparation is at hand, ready to jump into the breach and clear up the system.

Composed of the purest roots and herbs, combined with soluble iron, "Husky" aids nature in readjusting rundown systems and puts to work sluggish organs. It is an invaluable lieutenant in the battle for health and aids in many ways the proper functioning of the body. Tired feelings, nervousness, unsound sleep and pains in the stomach and head are all caused by the improper functioning of the vital organs, and can be eliminated through the use of "Husky."

The MacFarlane Drug Store is ready to supply this great medicine to sufferers, and thousands have already taken advantage of this chance to regain lost energy and health.

World War Veteran Is Gets Rid of Indigestion, Helped to Good Health Heartburn With Husky

The exposure and rigors of warfare in France during the World War caused serious stomach trouble for George A. Peters of 3261 Rutledge Street, Victoria, B.C., who was with the Canadian Expeditionary Forces, and he has suffered with his stomach ever since his return home.

Mr. Peters also suffered from general weakness and rundown condition, gas on the stomach and bowels, and other digestive disorders. He tried many remedies unsuccessfully before finding Relief from acute indigestion and other digestive disorders is one of the principal functions of "Husky," the marvelous medicine of iron and herbs, and hundreds of thousands have praised it for this relief. Among the many who have received relief from the pain of this trouble, Miss Lena Melanson of 327 Mackay Street, Montreal, is one of the most enthusiastic.

Miss Melanson was suffering from acute indigestion and heartburn and could get no aid from many medicines that she tried. She finally began the use of "Husky," and her heartburn was dispelled before she had finished her third bottle.

She says: "I was suffering from acute indigestion, which caused me terrible heartburn and pains in the stomach and side. A good meal would cause gas on my stomach and bloating, and I did not enjoy eating for this reason. 'Finally, after trying other remedies, I much relief right at first. I would especially notice how much better I felt after a meal, and my heartburn was gone. I am continuing the 'Husky' treatment and it is putting me on my feet again. It has given me wonderful relief and I can warmly recommend this preparation to anyone who is suffering as I did."

Miss Melanson is one of the thousands of people in Montreal and in practically every city of Canada who have received relief through the use of "Husky." Everywhere, similar testimony is given, and great things are said about "Husky," which is bringing new health and energy to the tired, the sick and the rundown people of the Dominion. Try your bottle to-day and become convinced of the merits of this great medicine. (Adv.)

Normal Babies Weigh About Seven Pounds

By DR. MORRIS FISHER

The normal baby when born weighs about seven pounds. Some babies when born; even after fulfilling the usual term before birth, weigh as little as three or four pounds. These babies are not premature but immature.

A baby weighing less than five and a half pounds and less than twenty inches in length at birth is an immature baby. Such babies seem to have disproportionately large heads.

It is an interesting observation that following a great war more boys are born than girls. This was true in Germany, Austria and Hungary after the last Great War.

PREMATURE BIRTHS

Dr. Aaron Capper found more girls than boys among immature infants, which constitute ten per cent of all births. It is an interesting fact that ten per cent of all births are premature, that is before the expected time. From one-fifth to one-third of the immature infants are twins.

In Germany there is one twin birth for every seventy-seven; in the United States, 1.1 per cent of births are twins. In the United States, in 1923, there was one set of triplets for every 10,014 children born, and in 1924 one for every 8,543 children.

Apparently premature babies born after six and a half to seven months may live, even though they weigh as little as 1,200 grams or two-and-five-eighths pounds.

A case is recorded in which five babies were born at one time, one of which weighed only 320 grams or about eleven ounces. It lived its extremities at birth, but lived only a few minutes.

A case is reported of an infant which weighed only 650 grams or twenty-four ounces and lived only a month. In one case a child measured fifteen inches or thirty-eight centimeters in length and weighed twenty-two ounces. It doubled its weight at the end of one month and lived.

THE FIRST YEAR

It is much more difficult for a premature or an immature infant to survive the first year of life than for one born at the regular time and fully developed.

Forty per cent of immature infants who weigh less than four pounds at birth die within the first twenty-four hours. Of those weighing more than five and a half pounds only about one and one-half per cent die during the first twenty-four hours.

A child born so greatly underweight demands special nursing care, careful regulation of the heat of its atmosphere, proper feeding and special care to prevent infection.

They Never Fail David Belasco

By LEONARD HALL

New York, May 18.—The curtain drops gently, then spurs up and down as the ladies and gentlemen of the company make their little curtsies and smirk their little smirks.

Somehow, the clattering mob out in front is not appeased. The harder the curtain pulls, the louder grows the applause. The folks want something more, and they mean to get it if they have to tear down the theatre.

At last, in response to the bedlam, there steps from the wings a little old

"David Belasco . . . 'probably immortal'—and June Walker . . . 'clever, little.'"

"David Belasco . . . 'probably immortal'—and June Walker . . . 'clever, little.'"

gentleman in severe black, with a mop of unruly white hair and the mild eye of a spanked spaniel. The applause grows unbearable, and the little old gentleman waits, eyes lowered, for its end. At last, in equally astonishing silence, he speaks.

The little old gentleman is David Belasco, Chevalier of the Legion of Honor and dead, by acclamation, of the American stage. The mob ovation we have just heard is the focal point and the high C of one of the greatest of New York theatrical institutions—a genuine, twenty-four carat Belasco first night.

It doesn't make any difference what the show is, or who the actors—the Belasco isolators turn out en masse. Young sprouts of producers come, drop their little bankrolls, and go, but Father David, more than fifty years in the theatre, goes on forever. He probably is immortal, for forever children no doubt will see the little old gentleman come feebly forth when you and I have been romping a long time in the Elysian Fields.

His little speech seldom varies, and it always is made with great hesitancy and humility, as of an artist humbled by the public's fanfare over his handiwork.

He is very grateful, and we have made him very, very happy. He thanks us for his actors, because we have made them very, very happy, too, and he is very proud of them. He cannot find the author in the audience (the author probably having gone for a bicycle ride), but he thanks us for the author, and knows the author will be very, very happy and very, very proud. And so the time-honored, inevitable and absolutely necessary little ceremony ends, and the play proceeds.

It is all very charming, very simple, and very amusing to one who has sat before the little comedy many times.

After a lapse of months, Broadway had a chance to turn out for the little old gentleman when he presented, at his own sombrely handsome theatre, a sophisticated comedy by Edward Childs Carpenter called "The Bachelor Father."

It is a spry and saucy little play about a lonely English baronet who adopts three of his own children just for the sake of diversion, and about the things that happen to His Nibs when an Italian girl, an English youth, and a smart-cracking American flapper from the sidewalks of New York begin to operate. It affords a gay evening and some of the best acting of the season by clever little June Walker and big C. Aubrey Smith.

LONDON TO HAVE POLICE INQUIRY

London, May 18.—The House of Commons yesterday afternoon and last night heard the Metropolitan Police charged with third degree methods in connection with the case of Miss Irene Savidge, when Labor members demanded that an inquiry be ordered by the Home Secretary, Sir William Joynson-Hicks.

Miss Savidge, who was charged with improper conduct in Hyde Park, was dismissed on May 2 with the statement by the magistrate that the case should never have been brought to court.

Yesterday Labor members, led by Thomas Johnson, charged that since the case was dismissed, two police officers had taken Miss Savidge from her place of business, and keeping her incommunicado, had subjected her to close questioning at Scotland Yard for five hours, during which time questions of the most embarrassing nature were asked her.

The Home Secretary admitted there undoubtedly was a case for inquiry and that the accusations made, if true, were of the most damaging character to the Metropolitan Police Force. He suggested one of the judges should hold a full open inquiry into the matter.

HONOR MEMORY OF E. T. GALT

Prominent Men Among Many at Funeral in Montreal

Montreal, May 18.—Communities of major importance in Canada, in whose development he had played a great part, were represented yesterday when the funeral of Elliott Torrance Galt, at the funeral in Mount Royal Cemetery, after a service at the residence of the sister of the late citizen, Mrs. A. T. Galt Dunford. At the request of Mayor J. S. Tetreault of Sherbrooke, Senator G. G. Foster was present, representing the people of Sherbrooke and the Eastern Townships generally. Mr. Galt and his father, Sir Alexander Galt, before him, were prominent in those sections of the province of Quebec. Sir Alexander Galt also was the founder of the town of Lethbridge, and his son for many years had much to do with the building up of the district of Alberta of which Lethbridge is the centre, and appreciation of that fact was shown in the presence of Senator W. A. Buchanan of Lethbridge and Lincoln H. Jelliff, M.P. of Lethbridge, as representatives of the prairie communities. The service was conducted by the Rev. Canon Gower-Rees, rector of St. George's Church, Montreal. Elliott T. Galt died in New York last Monday evening.

The late Mr. Galt was a well-known resident of Victoria. Some four or five years ago he purchased the G. G. Bushby property on St. Charles Street.

MEMORIAL BEING MADE FOR OTTAWA

Native Canadians Resident in U.S. Are to Subscribe $50,000 For Purpose

New York, May 18.—A sketch of the May Memorial to be erected in the Parliament Buildings at Ottawa as a Confederation gift from Canadian residents in the United States has just been published here. The sketch, submitted by Dr. R. Tait McKenzie of Philadelphia and approved by the National Memorial Committee, symbolizes the development of Canada.

Four figures occupy the immediate foreground. On the left is Canada, enthroned, her right hand on a shield emblazoned with the arms of United Canada of to-day, her left outstretched to receive the offerings of her children. She wears a head-dress with caribou antlers and the short chiton and sandals of Diana—a youthful girlish figure, the youngest of the nations.

CHILD WITH WHEAT SHEAF
The central figure is a small child, the Canadian of the future, staggering under the weight of the great wheat sheaf he is bringing. Behind him and partly supporting him is a stalwart youth, the Canadian of the present, relinquishing his rifle and looking forward to Peace and Industry. Behind him a young woman kneels and receives his rifle with one hand and with the other pours out from a basket the fruits of the earth at Canada's feet. The Englishman is stepping down into the foreground with a theodolite on his shoulder. At his heels come, in procession, the lumberman, with his axe, established on both coasts before the land was settled. Farther back the side is seen a group—a man, with a hunter's rifle, a woman and child, standing among the trees in front of the settler's cabin. On the opposite side an Iroquois Indian lurks in the forest watching them.

The upright pine trunk forms a frame through which is seen the figure in low relief of Jacques Cartier on the deck of his ship as he sails up the St. Lawrence. Kneeling behind him a Jesuit priest upholds the cross, a reference to the religious character of the first settlement of Canada.

The relief of the figures becomes lower as the history recedes, but the figures on the pedestal stand out boldly, almost in the round.

The panel is about ten feet square and is supported on a pedestal about three feet high on which the inscription will be carved.

DEVOTION TO CANADA
There are approximately a million and a quarter men and women of Canadian birth resident in the United States. To give expression to their sentiments of pride in and devotion to their native land this memorial at Ottawa was proposed. The sixtieth anniversary of Confederation, celebrated last year, provided a fitting opportunity to present it. It will be erected at a cost of $50,000; the amount to be raised by popular subscription among Canadians this side of the border.

Through the courtesy of the Canadian Government, the site within its gift was made available to the Memorial Committee and accepted. This location is a large panel in the main corridor of the Parliament Buildings leading to the Hall of Fame and opposite to and balancing the memorial group already erected there to the Nursing Sisters in the Great War. This was, of course, too short to consider the erection of the memorial itself for unveiling at the Jubilee ceremonies in Ottawa on July 1 last. Therefore, a temporary model was made and placed within the panel the memorial will occupy.

Milling Company Starts Work On Duncan Warehouse

Duncan, May 18.—Work has started on the new warehouse for the Vancouver Milling and Grain Company on the Indian Reserve. The contractors being the Dominion Construction Company of Vancouver.

The building will be 100 feet long by 50 feet wide and will be of the type known as slow burning mill construction.

A garage will be erected at the east end of the warehouse.

J. Sinclair is in charge of the building operations for the contractors.

OLD AGE PENSIONS
Winnipeg, May 18.—Major C. E. Newcomb, chairman of the Manitoba Workmen's Compensation Board, which will handle the administration of old age pensions in this province, will leave tomorrow for the British Columbia coast to study the methods used in handling the pension system there. To date 1,500 persons have filed applications for pensions in Manitoba, and this number is expected to be doubled.

BOARD CONSIDERS DUTY ON SUGAR

Federal Tariff Body Hears Arguments For Decrease and Increase

Ottawa, May 18.—A slight ruffle swept through the session of the Tariff Advisory Board here yesterday afternoon when a passage-at-arms, engaged in between J. McGregor Stewart of Halifax and R. J. Deachman, representing the Consumers' League of Canada, brought from Mr. Stewart the charge that in statements made following the first hearing of the application of William Thrasher of Saskatoon for a reduction in the duty on refined sugar, held last November, Mr. Deachman had misrepresented the facts.

"I don't trust Mr. Deachman," declared Mr. Stewart.

The statement was precipitated by a question directed at Mr. Stewart by Mr. Deachman. The former had said an increase in the tariff would affect the refining companies only indirectly. It would not necessarily increase the price to the public. He was asked by Chairman W. H. Moore if he could furnish the board with the costs of production, but this he declined to do. He would give these in confidence to the chairman of the board, he said, but he did not trust Mr. Deachman.

"Nor the public?" asked the chairman.

Mr. Stewart replied in the negative.

EVIDENCE RECALLED
At this point Mr. Deachman rose to protest. Following the last hearing on the sugar case he had made a certain statement, he said, but he had said nothing that was not supported by the evidence. He thanked Mr. Stewart for the "promise" that an increased tariff would not mean an increase to the consumers, but he could not accept it. All the evidence went to show the manufacturers took full advantage of the tariff, he declared.

Yesterday was the second hearing of the request for a bounty on beet sugar, and linked up with it was a rehearing of William Thrasher's application for reduction in the duty on refined sugar.

INCREASED ASKED
The Dominion Sugar Company at Charlottetown asked for an upward revision of the tariff on refined sugar.

A. V. McIntyre, on behalf of the Dominion Sugar Company, stated there was a seven per cent loss in sugar refining. The cost of commodities and labor, he said, had increased considerably since 1909.

Mr. McIntyre asked the board to put protection of one cent a pound on refined sugar to put the industry on a sound basis. This protection, he said, would insure a substantial increase in Canadian production and good prices for Canadian sugar beets. Farmers would also, he declared, be assured of a fair price.

HONOR CENTENARY OF WOMAN PIONEER

Westminster Abbey Service Commemorates Mrs. Josephine Butler

London, May 18 (By Canadian Press).—Mrs. Josephine Butler, a pioneer in the work for social hygiene, was born on April 13, 1828, at Milfield Hill, Northumberland, and the centenary of her birth was celebrated throughout Great Britain.

Sunday, April 22, was observed in many English Churches—both Anglican and Free—by pulpits referring to Mrs. Josephine Butler's life work. On the Tuesday evening following there was a commemorative service in Westminster Abbey. On the Wednesday Lord Balfour of Burleigh presided at a centenary meeting in the Central Hall, Westminster, when the speakers included Mrs. Bramhall Booth, wife of General Booth of the Salvation Army; Miss Margaret Bondfield, M.P.; and Sir Michael Sadler, master of University College, Oxford.

It was largely through the efforts of Mrs. Butler that the Contagious Diseases Acts were repealed in 1886.

NOW SUGGESTED PREMIER KING GO TO GENEVA

Ottawa, May 18.—The suggestion that Premier King attended the next session of the Assembly of the League of Nations has been endorsed by the central executive of the League of Nations Society in Canada. The following resolution, moved by Senator N. A. Belcourt, was carried:

"That the suggestion made by Sir Herbert Ames, to be effected that it would be acceptable that the Prime Minister, Right Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, attend the next Assembly of the League of Nations at Geneva."

At the Council meeting at Ottawa, Mr. King's representative, meets with the cordial approval of the society, and that the general secretary be instructed to send a copy of this resolution to the Prime Minister and to express the hope he may find it possible to act in accordance with it.

Glasgow-Belfast Aeroplane Service

Glasgow, May 18.—A company has been formed in Glasgow, under the title of the Aerial Taxis (Scotland) Company, with the object of inaugurating a daily aeroplane service with Belfast, and also opening up services to various parts in the north of Scotland. The intended route between Scotland and Ireland is by way of Dumfries and Stranraer, and it is expected the service will be inaugurated early in June. The estimated time for the journey between Glasgow and Belfast is five or six hours, and the return fare will be about $40. Aeroplanes capable of accommodating twelve to twenty passengers will be employed.

Besides this regular service, the company is to provide taxi-planes available for hire to any part of the country at short notice.

$15,000 FOR HAT
Paris, May 18.—One of Napoleon's hats, a well worn specimen, has been sold at auction for $15,000. The hat will not leave France, since it was the purchaser was a French army officer. The hat, in the shape made famous by Napoleon, was accompanied by a certificate guaranteeing it had been sold by his valet in 1814 to an old clothes man.

PROSPEROUS BRITISH COLUMBIA

IF THERE ARE ANY PESSIMISTS LEFT in British Columbia, they ought to be able to cheer themselves up by noting an important fact to which The Financial Post Year Book makes reference in that section of the document dealing with the affairs of British Columbia. It says that the purchasing power of the average citizen of this Province is higher than the purchasing power of the average citizen in any other Canadian province.

Several newspapers which already have commented upon this satisfactory condition remind us that it is the first time British Columbia has taken first place in this particular regard, the populous and prosperous province of Ontario having ranked first for a number of years, but now has dropped to second place, followed closely by Alberta.

A Vancouver contemporary observes that purchasing power in British Columbia is significant in two ways. First, it indicates a high degree of prosperity; secondly, it points to British Columbia as a desirable location for manufacturing enterprises that want to rely upon the immediate domestic market for the sale of their products. It is, in other words, an invitation to industrial development.

Nor is it to be supposed that the opportunities which await the industrialist and the investor in British Columbia will be missed. Recent large financial transactions, stock consolidations, and so on, are all indications of the confidence with which financial men regard the future of this Province. Capital not only is unafraid, it is eager to get to work here. For this changed outlook, very different from what it was ten years ago, the policies which the provincial Government has pursued are largely responsible.

ROTARY'S NEW PRESIDENT

THE ROTARY CLUB IS TO BE CONGRATULATED upon its election of Mr. Herbert Anscomb as its president for the coming year, and we may be sure that Mr. Anscomb appreciates the honor which has been conferred upon him. His service to the municipality of Oak Bay as its reeve for several years, his association with many movements of a public nature, not to mention his business training, give him all the equipment he requires to carry out successfully the duties of the office in which the Rotarians now have installed him. Mr. Anscomb also is a member of the Board of Directors of the Chamber of Commerce and of the executive of the Publicity Bureau. If there is anything in the old adage that the busiest man always can find time for another job, the Rotary Club's new president will be in his element—and we predict for the organization a successful year under his guidance. He should prove a worthy successor to James H. Fletcher, and that is saying much, since Mr. Fletcher was an exceptionally able presiding officer of this fine service organization.

OUTLAWING WAR

WHEN UNITED STATES SECRETARY of State Frank B. Kellogg replied to France's proposal for a treaty between the two republics to outlaw war with a counter-suggestion that it be made to include the other great powers, and afterwards the smaller nations, sceptics declared that both Mr. Kellogg and M. Briand were indulging in a pipe dream. Later developments, however, suggest something quite different. The language used in the notes proposes that the great powers shall agree to abolish war as an instrument of national policy in their relations with one another, that they shall settle any differences that may develop by negotiation. Great Britain has received this proposal with enthusiasm and the House of Lords already has given it its blessing. Germany, with everything to gain by acquiescence, agreed to the principle at once. France obviously is becoming reconciled to the wider application of her first proposal. Australia of the British Dominions has declared herself in favor of it, and the rest of the Britannic Commonwealth may be expected to follow suit after the exchange of communications between its members and the British Government has been completed.

Some observers see in this simple proposal, which is composed of only three articles, an encroachment upon the sphere of the League of Nations and a plan which might conflict with the operating of the Locarno pacts. Such arguments are not convincing. The aim of the Geneva organization is peace all over the world. The object of the Locarno agreements is a practical effort to preserve peace in Europe, particularly between France and Germany. But the important point to be remembered is that the United States is not a member of the League of Nations. It is not in any way involved in the understandings reached at Locarno. There is little prospect of its joining the League; but what it has proposed is that it, in common with the most influential members of the League and signers of the Locarno pacts, will associate itself and its resources and moral influence with this new plan to outlaw war as an instrument of national policy.

The plain people, who have to make the sacrifices in wars, will regard the present proposal as a means of bringing the United States into accord with all of the great powers and most of the smaller nations in making war less likely than it is now. Surely nothing should be permitted to stand in the way of a bargain of that sort. Nobody can reasonably suggest at this stage that the world can have too many movements in the cause of peace. The promotion of international amity by practical means between nations should be encouraged. Certainly it is a thousand times better than promoting international discord and setting the stage for the "fool's game" as Sir William Robertson called it—of war.

HOOVER AND SMITH

THE PRESIDENTIAL BATTLE IN THE United States will be fought out between Herbert Hoover and Alfred Smith. The selection of delegates for the Republican convention at Kansas City and the Democrat convention at Houston is not yet complete, but credentials already issued indicate a comparatively smooth path for these two well-known candidates. The prospect of compromise candidates is extremely remote.

Mr. Hoover is known far beyond the borders of his own country as a man of outstanding ability as an organizer and executive. He may thus claim to be an international figure. Although Mr. Smith's activities largely have been confined to New York State, his great popularity and fine record, as emphasized by his striking political successes, have attracted the attention of the whole nation. Hence there will be no obscurity as far as the presidential candidates are concerned.

It is too early to speculate upon the part which the religious question will play in the event, which now seems pretty nearly certain, of a contest between Mr. Hoover and Mr. Smith. Mr. Hoover is a Protestant and Mr. Smith is a Roman Catholic. The latter lost the presidential nomination largely on account of this issue in 1924, but it will be less of a factor in a general presidential campaign than it might be in a nominating convention. His opposition to prohibition, because he does not believe it can be enforced, is likely to provoke more controversy than his religious convictions.

Canada, of course, is deeply interested in presidential elections in the United States. The majority of our people who are Liberal in political sentiment prefer to see a Democrat government in office at Washington. The Republican Party is the high tariff party, closely allied to the moguls of special privilege. Mr. Hoover, its candidate, will hear much about the oil scandals of his party and the serious problem of unemployment which has lately developed. Moreover, the farming communities have grown restless under a fiscal policy which pays little regard to their plight and does little to help them secure a wider market for their products. The economic shoe pinches the farmer when he is asked to pay proportionately much higher prices for the products of the factory. Whether such arguments as these can be regarded as sufficient to counteract the factors which may hamper Mr. Smith remains to be seen.

From a broad standpoint, however, if our neighbor should choose either Mr. Hoover or Mr. Smith, the destinies of the United States for the next four years would be in the hands of a capable, honest, and conscientious chief executive. It will be a contest, if these two fight it, that will arouse great interest abroad.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

A TRAVESTY ON JUSTICE
From The Brooklyn Eagle

Harry P. Sinclair's acquittal by a Washington jury adds another ironic touch to the travesty of justice growing out of the oil scandal. The verdict of the jury, while it clears Sinclair of one of the charges against him, does not vindicate him or justify his actions in connection with the leasing of Teapot Dome. It does not lessen the oil scandal or dispose of it. On the contrary, it emphasizes the weaknesses in our system of dealing with wealthy persons accused of crime and will add to the cynicism concerning government and the law.

NO DAYLIGHT SAVING FOR THEM
(From The Boston Transcript)

Daylight saving, now in full swing in this and many other States, must cause some crooked grin among the hapless residents of the District of Columbia. It was instituted in that community in 1918, following the enactment of a national law by Congress, but the farmers so bitterly opposed the law that it was repealed in 1919, although President Wilson vetoed the repeal bill, as he had also the Volstead Act. The boon of the extra daylight hour delighted the people of Washington, a large proportion of them tied down to the deadly routine of Government office work, but Nebraska and Kansas dictate the personal habits of voteless communities, and daylight saving never has been restored in the national capital, for the District of Columbia enjoys none of the rights of a sovereign State. The adhesion to sun time bears particularly hard on the Eastern newspaper correspondents, who lose a full hour in Massachusetts, New York and many other States; a condition which seriously affects the news service of the afternoon papers.

CANADA FOR CANADIANS?

To the Editor:—At times in every man's life some circumstances occur which he fails to understand. I am in that predicament just now. In March, 1927, I wrote to the Victoria Land Company making an offer of $15,000 cash for a reversioned lot listed at $23,300, enclosing a cheque for $50 to let them see I meant business, at the same time pointing out that I would immediately have a building erected that would net the city between $400 and $500 in taxes per annum. As a matter of business I made a low offer expecting to be met half way. To my surprise I received a letter with my cheque enclosed stating my offer could not be accepted. I felt rather non-plussed, but decided to see our worthy Mayor. After waiting several hours in the attempt I explained the situation and asked to have my offer considered, but was told the price was set and would not be altered. However, I offered $18,000, and asked what could be done to meet it, but was again checked. Being a man representing a family of seven and not easily pushed aside I asked the Mayor to use his influence to get aforementioned lot for me to develop my growing business as I had a large family to provide for, but he asked me if I had considered what it would cost Victoria, to educate my children. It may not have seemed a very serious remark as far as he was concerned, but I never felt so cheap in my life, and considering all my children are native born, and that I have resided in Victoria for seventeen years I felt I had not had a great deal of consideration. Although I have never forgotten the experience I bore no malice and figured that business is business at all times. Where the rub comes in is the fact that our same worthy Mayor, so I understand, is now chasing a group of financiers in California seeking how near fifty per cent of the cash price (on terms) that he can obtain for our reversioned lots. Is it fair? Or am I just a narrow-minded

NEW TYPE TIMBER SALE CONTRACT PROTECTS STAND

Hon. T. D. Pattullo Shows Advantages of Restrictions Upon Annual Cut

Preservation of large areas of growing forest for the benefit of future generations, while permitting logging operators to utilize prime stands, is the keynote of the provincial forest policy.

A timber sale recently completed on the Little White Mountain Forest to the Penticton Sawmills Ltd., well illustrates the policy for managing these forest areas as a permanent asset for the district by Hon. T. D. Pattullo, Minister of Lands.

The Little White Mountain Forest was set aside for a dual purpose—the production of timber for local needs and the protection of the watershed from which the South Okanagan Valley receives its water for irrigation purposes.

Surveys of the area show that the forest contains 128,000,000 feet of mature timber, considerable areas of reproduction, and pole stands from one to 100 years of age. It is also estimated that the present 3,000,000 feet of annual cut can be cut without depreciating the stand and that this can ultimately be increased to 9,000,000.

The sale just completed includes 50,000,000 feet and will extend over twenty-five years, the cut being limited to 2,000,000 feet per year. Provision is made in the contract for careful protection from fire and for reforestation. The product from the sale will be manufactured at Penticton into boxes and go to supply the fruit industry with needed packing cases.

The fruit industry of the Okanagan requires considerable and increasing quantities of wood for packing boxes.

FOR PROGRESS.

In 1922 the value of the fruit shipped from Penticton district was $475,000. In the past five years this has more than doubled and is now in excess of $1,000,000. The Penticton Herald states that, in 1927, 300,000 boxes of fruit were handled by the Penticton Co-operative Growers, Incorporated, alone; that the cost of handling was about $120,000, of which $30,000 was spent in box material. The securing of this from the nearby forest and the manufacturing by local labor is the true forestry idea—forest land paying tribute to agriculture and hand-in-hand working for the development of a permanent, happy community.

It is even more encouraging to note that, barring accidents such as fire, the productive capacity of the forest will increase in future, and that the fruit industry of the future may rely to an even greater extent on these watered areas for their box material. For some years the Provincial Government has been setting aside under reserve Provincial forests, and now has eighteen forests, totalling 6,500,000 acres, dedicated to forest production.

PREMIER DISCUSSES FINANCES AT SIDNEY; JACKSON NOMINATED.

The committee then discussed plans for next year's show, deciding that it would be held late in April and be of a general character.

The remainder of the evening was devoted to a discussion of the possibility of erecting a community hall large enough for the coming horticultural exhibitions, which Mr. Leighton stated, would be bigger than ever before. The matter was left in the hands of a committee.

The next meeting will be held late in September.

Change of Time — E. & N. Ry. on May 23.

Dr. Maclean quoted the statement of Mr. Bower in which the former Conservative Premier paid tribute to the better method of compiling the public accounts under the present Government than the system that was in vogue under the old Conservative Government.

As for the debt of B.C., the Premier said that when the Liberals came into office, Waterhouse and Company, chartered accountants, made an investigation and found that the debt on March 31, 1917, was $25,500,000. Today the gross debt was $60,000,000.

NECESSARY EXPENDITURES

"I tell you these figures frankly as you are entitled to know," the Premier continued. "But I want you to know what this money was used for. The P.G.E. was left by the Conservatives in such a muddle that we had to put $15,000,000 into the railway. Then there was $16,000,000 for roads and bridges, which were necessary because of the advent of the motor car which has altered the whole economic fabric of the country, making a big problem for all countries because the old macadam roads and light timbered bridges won't stand up under the heavier traffic now arising under the present Government."

"Also when we came into office there was a university equipped with students and professors, but there were no buildings or provision for buildings.
We put $4,000,000 into the university and its improvements."

"We put $2,500,000 into needed public buildings; for instance, before we came into office there was no place to treat tubercular patients as the former Government did not spend a dollar to look after that most deadly disease of the human race. We built a home of tubercular patients. We built out of this sum a home for incurables and then the boys' industrial school."

"Then there were the irrigation districts in North and South Okanagan as the fruit situation there has been in desperate shape and we had to loan them money for irrigation to prevent their trees from dying. So the Government advanced $2,200,000 for this purpose."

"We borrowed $1,700,000 for better housing. The Department of Industries took $1,000,000, soldiers' settlement $3,000,000, Sumas reclamation nearly $3,000,000, South Okanagan irrigation some $3,000,000."

FOR INDUSTRIES AND HOMES

"Of the $60,000,000, we have $17,000-000 of productive debt, such as what was loaned for irrigation, industries and better housing, 80 to 85 per cent of which we will get back. To pay our debt we lay aside $1,750,000 to $2,000-000 in a sinking fund to pay these debts. During the last few years we have retired $6,000,000 of our debt in that way."

The Premier declared that the best sign of all as to the improved financial position of the Province was when the Province went into the money markets.

"British Columbia is now in the proud position of getting money at the lowest rates of any Province in Canada," he went on.

The Premier provoked much amusement when he told how it was impossible to get any official copies of the resolutions passed by the Conservatives at their last convention at Kamloops.
There was a reason for this, he said, in that in all those resolutions passed there was nothing to be found about labor from beginning to end.

"There is only one party interested in social legislation and that will give it to you and it is the Liberal Party," the Premier said.

He recalled that there was not one piece of social put on the books by the Conservatives except that of Workmen's Compensation and then the Conservatives after delay did not bring it into force, as it had to wait until the Liberals came in before it was put into force.

The Premier also pointed out that the Conservative Party had no policy on the P.G.E., no policy on school taxation, no policy on mentally defective.
AN ELECTION CRY

The Premier recalled the election cries of the past, such as the cry of a

"White British Columbia," on which Sir Richard McBride with Mr. Bower carried the Province.

"But it was only an election cry, as how much whiter was British Columbia made when that party was returned to power," Dr. Maclean said.

"Better terms did good service as a cry for one election, but what result was there with a Conservative Government in power in British Columbia and a Conservative Government in power at Ottawa?"

The Premier recalled that at the last election the Conservatives were "blue ruin," but there had never been a time since the war when there had been so much prosperity in British Columbia as to-day.

"When you know that the present incumbent holds the seat of this riding by only three votes, then surely, Jackson, you can beat him at that," said Mary Ellen Smith, who presided over the convention voting during the afternoon and spoke briefly at the night meeting.

Mrs. Smith predicted that there were going to be triplets—Jackson, from the Islands; Whitaker, from Saanich, and Mary Ellen, from Esquimalt.

Miss Moses presented Mrs. Smith with a bouquet of roses.

NOMINEE SPEAKS

"You have given me to-day the greatest compliment any body of electors can give any man," Mr. Jackson said, speaking at the night meeting. "I shall try to give you the best in me as I have done in the last twelve years. I am prepared to do the best I can in your fight and I want your co-operation."

President Alex McDonald presided at the convention dinner served in Wesley Hall by the ladies of the Liberal organization under Mrs. T. Lidgate and including Mrs. Charlesbois, Mrs.
Williamson, Mrs. Hambley, Mrs. Sinclair, Miss G. E. Moses and Miss Matthews.

"It is your work and your fight in the service of this constituency," Mr.
Jackson said. "When I stand for Liberalism I stand for it, as it is the one and only principle from which the freedom of our Anglo-Saxon race has sprung."

Mr. Jackson thanked all for the honor that had been done him in his nomination.

"In Mr. Jackson you have nominated a real man," Premier Maclean said.

"So far as I am concerned, I am entirely happy over the situation. We are selecting in every riding, men of good character. We have a good record in legislation and administration, and our policies have made the Province prosperous. We are going to get a large support from those independent minded Conservatives who realize that the affairs of this Province have been well administered under this Government."

Major Moodie, Provincial Liberal organizer, said that from his personal survey throughout the Province, Dr.
Maclean and his administration would be returned to office with a considerably enhanced majority.

Mrs. Beckett and David Ramsay of the Saanich Liberal Association and William M. Ivel also spoke. Among those introduced at the dinner were
C. J. V. Spratt, of the Victoria association, Charles R. Bishop, secretary of the Victoria Liberal Association, and
A. E. Humphries, of Victoria.

Mr. Jackson was nominated by Mr.
Mowat of Salt Spring Island and Norman Wilson. Mr. McDonald was nomi-

New Westminster, May 18.—Mrs. D. J. McLaughlin will represent the Provincial Council of Women at the annual meeting of the National Council to be held in Toronto from May 29 to June 4.

This appointment was made at the quarterly meeting of the Provincial Council of Women held here yesterday afternoon in the chair.

Protestant Orphan Home was forthcoming yesterday afternoon when the ladies' committee held their annual Pounce Party. From early morning the donations began to arrive, and in the afternoon a large number of the friends of the institution paid a personal visit and left every one a tangible token of their thought for the welfare of the little wards.

DESCRIBES SOCIAL WORK OF LEAGUE

Mrs. C. de V. Schofield Tells of League of Nations Aims

Something of the work accomplished along social and humanitarian lines by the League of Nations was described by Mrs. C. de V. Schofield, president of the League of Nations Women's Club, at a luncheon given last night by Mrs. C. de V. Schofield. The luncheon was held at the Y.W.C.A. with Mrs. McGregor, the president, in the chair.

After reviewing the events leading to the formation of the league and its history since 1920, Mrs. Schofield dealt more particularly with its work in such problems as the care and rehabilitation of Greek refugees, and against the drug traffic and the white slave traffic. The international influence and contacts of the league proved invaluable in the handling of such difficult problems as the white slave traffic.

BEAUTY

How and Why

By ANN ALYSS
Assume, now, that you have consulted your oculist or optician, and after studying the various sizes, shapes and styles in which modern glasses are made, have come to a decision as to whether your new pair is to have round, oval, square or octagonal lenses, whether nose glasses or spectacles are the more becoming.

The next point has to do with the rims. If you have decided that you want rims—perhaps you prefer the inconspicuous rimless style. If so, that question is settled and you are saved the trouble of choosing from among the many intriguing varieties of rims. Celluloid in all shades from the almost invisible transparent grey or amber, to tortoise-shell brown and black are among the favorites. The metals are represented by white, green and yellow gold, silver, plain and oxidized, and beautiful and artistic grey platinum. The optician will show you rims in all these shapes and materials and in varying designs.

Take plenty of time to choose what is right for you, for in any article so conspicuously worn as eye glasses, the least mistake may relegate you to the ranks of the dowdy. If your face be small, do not engulf it in great horn-rimmed spectacles. If you are the out-door athletic type, and have an average sized face, wear the horn rims—they will suit your style. Should you be of the stately type, you may wear the Oxford nose glasses and be very smart indeed.

TUCKED ROMAINE

A chic grey frock of romaine crepe has tucked bands running around the waist and skirt portions and crossing in front. The neck and sleeves are without trim.

CITY TEMPLE'S FIFTH YEAR

Anniversary Celebrations Will Commence Sunday Morning

William T. Bridge, president of the board of management of the Victoria City Temple, made the following statement, with reference to the approaching anniversary celebrations of the City Temple, which begin on Sunday morning next, and have their consummation in a city-wide rally at the Armories on Saturday evening, June 2.

"The congregation of the City Temple of which I have the honor to be president, enters joyfully on Sunday morning next into its fifth year of active life. I should say the crying need for a new element in religious life in Victoria was clearly manifest on the arrival of Dr. Davies nearly six years ago, when he commenced work in the Centennial Methodist Church. From that moment large crowds (far more than the building could accommodate) flocked to hear this remarkable preacher deliver messages cheering and inspiring, such as Victoria had rarely heard in its history. The occasion was the unfortunate decease of the Rev. J. L. Batty, and as soon as Dr. Davies, following in his footsteps, indicated the high tones of the gospel of clear thinking and fearless presentation of truth, it was demonstrated beyond question that there would be an increasing and insistent demand for such services in the religious life of this city.

"Subsequent years have proved that there is in Victoria not only a place but a vital need of someone who would speak from the Christian pulpit in no uncertain terms, and if one has to sum up the general trend of Dr. Davies' teaching, it is that Christianity applied to modern tasks forms a vital and indispensable feature in present day life. In its dead and detached and unapplied form, it has become a byword and is left severely alone by honest and thinking people. The world has no use for empty and meaningless creeds, and that of the City Temple, formulated four years ago, to crystallize approximately the thought of its founders, has caught the ear of the man in the street who realizes that here at last is a man who reflects in his teaching the fearless application of the Gospel. So far the City Temple has meant an organization, composed of people having a common interest and drawn together by the magnetic personality of the man who they have been fortunate enough to retain for four years as their pastor.

"Henceforth the Victoria City Temple will mean something more than an organization and it will from now on be working upon a plan for housing its members in a building, the scheme of which is being outlined at the present moment. Victoria is indeed fortunate in looking forward to years of further service on the part of Dr. Davies. Service unstinted and ever-ready, in all good works. The sparkling personality of the pastor attracts irresistibly men and women of all creeds and callings. He has entered energetically and insistently into the inner life of the capital city and the Province of British Columbia, and those who are privileged to listen to a liberal education in the discussion of vital present-day topics of individual and world interest. His messages of Sunday next will have special reference to the programme and the propaganda of the City Temple, and it is hoped that Victorians will avail themselves of this opportunity of uniting with the membership to celebrate the Temple's fourth birthday."

BIG BUS MERGER MOOTED

bus lines on any route or routes required by the municipality providing such can be operated without existing a lcs upon the operating company.

"6. That schedules be established for each of the lines and submitted to the municipality for approval.

"7. That in the event of any dispute appearing between the municipality and the operating company the same shall be submitted to the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council for decision, and that such decision be final and binding on the parties.

"8. That the agreement be submitted to the ratepayers for their approval and confirmed by private bill.

The above proposals I am sure you will agree provide a definite solution of the growing problems of transportation within your municipality and I would appreciate it if they would have your serious consideration. Further details of any of its branches I would be very glad to submit to you at your request.

Councillors agreed that a unified transportation system would be a great step forward in development of Saanich.

Inquiries as to the effect of which the proposed combination would have upon existing bus lines elicited from Reeve Crouch the statement that operators of many of the lines have agreed to combine with the new system.

The Gordon Head and Cordova Bay services operated by Williamson Bros. has already been purchased by Mr. Matson, and negotiations are now progressing for the acquisition of the Marigold and Burnside routes from George McWilliam, and the Hamilton bus line serving the George Strait.

Retirement of the council from transportation activities would have to be submitted to the ratepayers of Quadra Street district who guaranteed the municipality against loss, the council was informed. Reeve Crouch stated that the profit of $9,000 earned since inception of the system, now represented by new equipment, should be expended in the district which contributed the money in fares. He suggested that this should be done by calling a public meeting to discuss submission of a by-law to ratify the sale and cancel the existing by-law.

He suggested that a park reservation of seven acres on Rock Street could be made a beauty spot of value to the people of the district if the $9,000 profit were used for development, instead of being dissipated in general betterments in the area.

FINEST ON COAST

Should the Saanich Council grant me the franchise applied for, and accept my offer to purchase the municipal transportation system serving Lake Hill, I will give the municipality the most comfortable safe and modern system of transportation on the Pacific Coast, serving every section of the municipality that can provide revenues approaching cost of operation," said Mr. Matson this morning in an interview with The Times.

LUTHERANS HEAR FINE ADDRESSES

Dr. F. F. Fry of New York and Dr. J. C. Kunzman of Seattle Speakers

The big service of the convention of the Lutheran Synod meeting at the Grace Lutheran Church was held last night when two splendid addresses were given. Dr. F. F. Fry of New York, who is executive secretary of the Board of Americans gave a very lucid presentation of the needs of mission work and what is being done by his board.

He pointed out that the requirements of the work are men and money, and that the home missionary is in the truest sense following in the footsteps of the Master.

Dr. Fry said that his board directed more than 500 missions in North America; that over 350 of these were carried on in the English language, while the others used fourteen different languages. He further pointed out that they had invested $50,000 in church extension funds on the territory of the Pacific Synod, and were spending more than $30,000 a year to maintain their mission work in the Northwest.

Dr. J. C. Kunzman, who is president of the Pacific Theological Seminary at Seattle, spoke on the subject, "The Bible as the Centre of Christian Education." He said that the attacks on Christianity during the last fifty years had all been on the Bible. This he said was due to the fact that theological seminaries had been teaching about the Bible, but had neglected to teach the Bible itself.

At the business sessions yesterday the Synod decided to raise the sum of $20,000 during the year 1930, which has been set aside as educational year. This sum will be for the further development of the seminary at Seattle.

The sessions of the Synod close today at 4 o'clock.

THE MISCHIEVOUS CHILD A BORED CHILD
Mischief is a word that was coined for the use of parents. In the vocabulary it means something done by the child which is annoying to the parent. Isn't that so? What is it if not the child's standpoint? It is just activity. The child wants something to do. His mind is active, he is curious, and so he uses the materials he finds at hand in order to play. Because playing is of course the child's whole business before school age.

It is the parent's fault entirely if the child gets into "mischief," and instead of spanking him, which alas she does far too often, she must recognize it as a symptom of boredom. The child hasn't anything to do which really interests him, so he hunts for something. If in his search he discovers that dumping the ashes from Daddy's cigarstand and picking them up again offers him entertainment he does it. If he finds mother's powder box offers even larger opportunities for dumping out and picking up he'll undoubtedly choose the powder box. The powder smells nice anyway.

Children between two and five love to pour things out and pick them up. Watch a baby in a sandpile. He'll pack the utensil he has in hands full to the top and then he'll pour it out slowly. He does this over and over. Of course it isn't mischief when it is in the sandpile, it is simply mischief when the dumping is done on a clean floor and mother has to clean it up again. But the impulse and the enjoyment the child experiences are identical.

Children love to cut, paint, string beads, model clay, pile blocks. If they have no harmless play materials upon which to vent their desire for "motor" activity, they'll find something around the house that will take their places. You want your child to be active. You want him to learn how to use his hands. You want him to use his imagination and entertain himself. If he is into mischief all the time then count yourself at fault. You have not provided him with the toys which will furnish him material upon which he may expend this ceaseless energy which surges within him. The more mentally alert the child the more likely he is to be bored very early in life with the limitations of the home. The thoughtful parent will endeavor to find out in what particular the child's environment is at fault, instead of punishing him.

Naturalness is precisely what you get in Orthophonic Victrola music at home, whether it is the "Sextette from Lucia" or "Cohen on the Telephone". It is amazing real, whether a solo voice, clear and pure, or a chorus of a thousand voices extending from soprano to bass—a saxophone solo or a symphony concert. The new Orthophonic Victrola gives you the "feel" of the performance, and you get this, above all in your own home, at the time you select.

These wonderful performances of music come to you only because "Matched Impedance" brings them to you. In more popular words the Victor controlled principle which applies "smooth flow of sound" to every Orthophonic Victrola.

LIBERAL LAWS AID WORKERS

Speakers at Ward Meeting Point to Social Legislation

Mark Graham and W. T. Straith were speakers at a meeting of Ward Two Liberals held last night in the Association club rooms, with President Dempster in the chair. Mr. Graham dealt with the various pieces of social legislation which have been enacted by the present Liberal administration. Graham opened his remarks with the Minimum Wage Act, and outlined the great value of that law of protection to the workers. The Eight-hour Act, other useful legislation which the Province of British Columbia might well be proud of, were touched upon by the speaker. Mr. Graham also commented upon the financial standing of the Province. He explained that the buying power of the Province was a sure indication of prosperity. The speaker claimed that the Liberal management can bring about progress.

W. T. Straith said the great difference between the Conservative Party and the Liberal Party was that the former was unwilling to change for the betterment of conditions, while the latter was always anxious to bring about remedial measures in accordance with the requirements of the people. He said that the Canadian Senate had vetoed many useful measures which had been adopted by the Liberal Government of Canada, and instanced the recent action of the Senate with regard to the question of importing liquor. He thought that if the Senate were composed of a Liberal majority, the actions of that body would certainly be more liberal. Mr. Straith touched upon the valuable and noble work performed by former Liberal statesmen, and outlined the fearless methods adopted by the late William Lyon Mackenzie for the benefit of Canada, and the freedom which the people now enjoy as a result of Liberalism, which has been handed down since the days of that great statesman.

NEW FOLDER FULL OF INFORMATION

Twenty-five Thousand Will Be Distributed This Summer

All information relating to Island Summer resorts is presented in a concise, clear manner which does not burden the tourist or holiday maker with unnecessary data, in the new folder just issued by the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau. There are now 25,000 of them available for the public, the increased number being made necessary by the brisk demand from both tourists and visitors during the year.

It contains information regarding places of interest about the city itself including bathing beaches, golf courses and well-known drives. Leaving Victoria the guide deals with such places as Hamsterley Malahat, Cowichan Lake, Maple Bay and other up-island resorts. In addition to giving the tourist an idea of what to do at the different places, the folder gives reference to reliable hotels and states their rates.

NANAIMO INCLUDED
Nanaimo receives mention in the guide. A short history of the town is given along with summary of the places of interest in the city environs.

The bureau is very much impressed by the growing interest taken in Qualicum. With its golfing, trout and salmon fishing, mountain climbing, and fine accommodation it is fast becoming one of the most popular holiday resorts on the Pacific Coast. The long stretches of clean sand and the warm water make it an admirable place for swimming. This and its well-conducted golf tournaments, are probably the reasons why 1928 promises to be a record year there.

Port Alberni and Comox Bay vie with Campbell River in their fame for affording good fishing. But, according to the folder, the fifty-five and a half-pound salmon caught in Campbell River gives preference to the latter place.

The guide closes with a description of Strathcona National Park. Vancouver's beautiful Alpine area. The guide contains two maps of the territory with which it deals, and is supplemented with a leaflet giving the times and rates of the different ferries operating between the Island and the Mainland.

Alberni High School Area Plan Approved

The cities of Port Alberni and Alberni have created a high school area by an order of the Provincial Council of Public Instruction signed yesterday by Hon. J. D. MacLean as Minister of Education. The new area is the first in British Columbia to be created by two cities, and is formed at the request of the respective school boards.

The union will come into effect on May 22. The terms of union provide that the municipal treasurer of Port Alberni shall be treasurer for the newly created high school area, Alberni City to appoint the auditor.

The new body will administer its own funds, obtained from votes passed by the two city councils. Provincial grants and other sources such as fees. The new high school board is empowered to operate the existing high school in Port Alberni under existing agreements, whereby Alberni students receive tuition on payment of yearly fees of about $65 per pupil. The new school will cost about $30,000 equipped, the Province contributing half the cost of the building, estimated at $25,000.

When the new high school is completed and opened all funds earmarked for high school purposes to the credit of the two city school boards are to be transferred to the credit of the high school area board now authorized.

Change of Time — E. & N. Ry. on May 23.

Fagged!

To a Million Men Who Haven't Made An Important Discovery:

When figures won't add and another hour's work means a throbbing head, it is time for Aspirin. Acts quickly, and relief is complete. Physicians tell you it's harmless—it does not affect the heart. Just be sure it is genuine Bayer; that name should be on the box, and on every tablet. All druggists, with proven directions.

ASPIRIN

Aspirin is the trade mark (registered in Canada) indicating Bayer Manufacture. While it is well known that Aspirin means Bayer manufacture, to assure the public against imitations, the Tablets will be stamped with their "Bayer Cross" trademark.

TWENTY MILLION JEWS IN WORLD

Only 80,000 of These Live in Palestine

"The conversion of the world is not depending upon the return of the Jews to Palestine. It is a long way off for the Jews are not going back there very fast," was the belief expressed by Professor C. T. Everson last night in his lecture at the big tabernacle on Pandora and Vancouver Streets.

"There are approximately 20,000,000 Jews in the world and only 80,000 of those live in Palestine. There are more people of other religions residing in the Holy Land than there are of Jews. There are 75,000 Greek and Roman Catholics alone. During one month recently there were 786 Jews that entered Palestine and 782 that left leaving a net gain of only four. At that rate it will certainly be some time before the 20,000,000 all get back. "Of course people do not base their belief that the Jews will return because of the evidence of the facts, but because of a supposed prediction in the Bible. The return of glory to Israel spoken of in the Bible is not to the literal descendants of Abraham, but to the children of Abraham by faith. All Christians become the sons of Abraham when they accept Christ. Abraham was chosen because of his great faith and was called the father of the faithful. When anybody who manifests as great faith as Abraham and accepts salvation through Jesus Christ he enters among the list of the faithful and is therefore a son of Abraham. "God did not choose the Jews because He loved them any more than any other nation, but because they were more available. They could live under great privations where other peoples would despair. They were very industrious and great workers. God has very little use for a lazy man. But just because a man was a Jew did not insure him a straight passport to Heaven. If he was faithful all right, but if he sinned he was punished and, cut off from the chosen people.

"The Jews as a nation were God's special people for nineteen centuries, but one day they crucified Christ and said, 'let His blood be upon us and upon our children forever.' From that day forward God rejected them as His people and the crucifixion of Christ stands in the way for them to ever return to their former glory. Of course that does not bar an individual among the Jews from being saved, if he accepts Christ. Nationality is not a basis of salvation, but belief and obedience are."

"Are Eleventh Hour Conversations Ever Successful?" is the subject announced for to-night.

WILSON-PRESTON APPEAL

Toronto, May 18.—It is unlikely the appeal of W. T. Preston and F. W. Wilson against the $500 verdict in the Currie libel action will be heard until next Fall, according to R. H. Parmenter, K.C., of the firm of Tilley, Johnson and Parmenter, counsel for Gen. Sir Arthur Currie.

Now the World's Largest Selling Laxative

The astounding success of "Feen-a-mint" is due to two things:—

1. Because it is the easiest-to-take laxative. "Feen-a-mint" is in the form of chewing gum, delightfully mint-flavored.
2. Because "Feen-a-mint" contains the most harmless yet thoroughly effective laxative known to medical science—phenolphthalein (yellow), which is mixed with the saliva in the chewing process, as it should be to attain best results.

"Feen-a-mint" is fast supplanting disagreeable, harsh, habit-forming and often injurious laxatives and purgatives. The next time you need an internal cleansing, try this new modern chewing gum laxative—"Feen-a-mint."

Can Harmonious Engaged Couple Be Discovered?

Following the move of the Met-choon Farmers' Institute against the increasing divorce rate in British Columbia by the "fifteth of hacon" ceremony at Laxton to-night, it is understood there is a movement afoot to get at the root of the trouble by inquiring into the relations of engaged couples. Fred Coulter, of the Automobile Club, it is reported, intends to offer a prize to the engaged couple who will appear before a jury and testify that they have mixed harmoniously for the space of a year and a day with no quarrels or "tiffs" between them. Although a definite amount has not been stated, it is rumored Mr. Coulter is in possession of a large quantity of German marks and it is thought probably the prize will range in the neighborhood of 10,000,000 marks. This has not been confirmed as yet.

Hadley is taking a keen interest in this big event, and under his supervision has trained a number of boys for the past three months for June 2, with boxing bouts by Wild Cat Baba vs. Demmon Bowers; Panther Bu Dieldal vs. "The Terror of Sidney," Bud McKillop; "The Mandarin of China" vs. "The Rising Sun of Japan"; Origino "The Orang-utang" vs. Gilman, "the Snatcher," Shu Lim, "the Knockout Chinaman," vs. Bob Dieldal, "the Bottle Crusher."

Mr. Hadley is awarding a silver cup for the best match (to the winner), this to be decided by the audience at the conclusion of the boxing bouts. # TO-DAY'S GRAIN MARKETS

(By Branson, Brown & Co. Limited)
Winnipeg, May 18.—Wheat: The wheat market opened from 1 1/2 to 2 1/2 cents higher this morning, based on the unexpected strength in Liverpool, and with exports and seaboard houses buying on a liberal scale, there having been a large business worked overnight, all offerings having been absorbed. Seaboard estimated total sales at fully 2,000,000 bushels, mostly Manitoba, but including some durum.

Offerings were quite large throughout the day, long taking advantage of the bulges to take profits, and while the full bulge was not held, these offerings were well absorbed by strong interests.

There was also a much better demand for cash wheat, more especially the lower grades. Spreads on No. 4 were 1/2 better and fractionally better on the 5 and 6 grades. Weather reports showed good rains again over most of the winter wheat belt and fair showers over a large area of Spring wheat territory, but Montana, Saskatchewan, Manitoba and Alberta received little, if any, moisture.

EX-HOTEL HEAD RECEIVES $9,000

C.P.R. Settles Claim of S. F. Pierce, Former Manager of Hotel Vancouver

Vancouver, May 18.—By payment of $9,000 to S. F. Pierce, former manager of the Hotel Vancouver, the Canadian Pacific Railway Company has settled his $20,000 claim for wrongful dismissal, it is announced.

In addition, the company has undertaken to give Mr. Pierce a letter of recommendation.

On March 1, last the plaintiff was dismissed by the C.P.R. Company. Subsequently the latter, it is reported, offered to pay him $1,250 and one month's accommodation at the hotel, but this was rejected by him.

The $9,000 includes the costs of the plaintiff's solicitor, G. L. Fraser.

The case was spoken of in Supreme Court chambers here to-day, when the settlement was announced.

HEAD OF C.P.R. SYSTEM IS DUE

Under the present arrangements Mr. Beatty is expected to leave Vancouver by the regular boat to-morrow morning, and will arrive here at 2.30 p.m. As a last minute alternative, the C.P.R. president may decide to cross the Gulf of the new steamer Princess Elaine, which he has not seen since the vessel was completed and placed in service. Although the return journey of the party has not been announced here it is probable that Mr. Beatty may decide to go East over the Betty Valley line.

PLANS FOR NEW LINER

On his arrival in Vancouver this morning, Mr. Beatty stated that plans and specifications for the new liner to be built for the trans-Pacific service, a sister ship to the Empress of Canada, are now under consideration, and added that the contract would in all probability be placed within the next two months.

The time required to complete a vessel of this type, he added, is approximately twenty-seven months.

"The company's colonization activities in British Columbia and elsewhere are still very extensive and will be unrelenting," said Mr. Beatty. "Conditions in the West have never been better than they are at the present time. The prospect for a good crop, so far as we can judge at this period, are excellent and the feeling of quiet confidence in the three prairie provinces is at its height; in fact I do not recall having visited the West when there was a more wholesome atmosphere than during my present trip. The Pacific Coast, of course, is advancing with great rapidity, and we are looking forward to extensive tourist business on the coast and in the mountains during the present year."

NO CHANGE IN VANCOUVER POLICE BOARD

Vancouver, May 18.—A report that Mayor Louis D. Taylor was considering relinquishing office as chairman of the Vancouver police commission until the conclusion of the inquiry at present being held by R. S. Lennie as a special commissioner, is absolutely incorrect, according to the Mayor.

"I have no intention of standing down myself," he declared. "I do not know of any reason why I should take such action. I will not comment on the evidence at present as I consider the question sub-judice, but when the time arrives I will take the witness stand and make a complete statement."

INSPECTOR CONTINUES

Police Inspector John Jackson, whose retirement during the inquiry also was suggested, declared he has no intention of relinquishing office for the remainder of the investigation.

Following his latest blood test Tuesday, Dr. E. D. Patton, police surgeon, declared that he had no objection to Inspector John Jackson writing to Acting Chief Leathersdale asking that the veteran inspector of the morality squad be released from further duty on account of ill-health.

"I am due for superannuation very soon now," said Inspector Jackson last night in making public the physician's request, "but I am sufficiently fit to stay with my job till the last day is handed and I have testified at the investigation."

VANCOUVER COMMISSION HEARS TESTIMONY ABOUT PROTECTION OF GAMBLING

ACQUAINTANCE NAMED

During cross-examination of Joe Yem by W. B. MacInnes, the witness was asked to name the person who appeared before the commission.

"A Chinaman. He doesn't want me to tell," said Yem.

On the suggestion of Mr. MacInnes, Commissioner R. S. Lennie ordered Yem to name the man.

"Joe Fun," replied the witness.

MacInnes—Did Fun take you to Mr. McGee?

Witness—Yes, he acted as interpreter.

MacInnes—Have you heard that if Mr. Fletcher brings about a change in Chinatown Fun Sing will be in charge of gambling?

The witness said he had not heard of that.

QUESTION ABOUT EVIDENCE

Mr. McGee asked Mr. MacInnes if he was suggesting that Police Commissioner Fletcher had undertaken to allow gambling to proceed in Chinatown and that direct evidence would be produced to that effect.

Mr. MacInnes replied that direct evidence would be produced to show that a Chinaman had stated that under a change he would be in charge of gambling in Chinatown.

At the opening of this forenoon's session, W. B. MacInnes, counsel for Shue Moy, said he had been unable to produce any account books of the businesses in which Shue Moy was interested because he had none.

A. H. MacNeil, K.C., commissioner, said he would immediately that he might inform the commissioner who held the major interests in the gambling establishment in which he was a partner and who held the books and accounts of all of them.

Commissioner Lennie agreed and Mr. MacInnes promised to have Shue Moy appear during the day to give the required information.

ANSWERS MANY QUESTIONS

Chow Wong Lum was then recalled to the stand and was again subjected to the examination by G. L. McGee, K.C., counsel for Police Commissioner T. W. Fletcher, for the third day in succession.

In reply to the questions of Mr. McGee relating to expenses and losses of the cafe run in conjunction with a gambling establishment at 214 Abbott Street, the witness agreed there were no losses in the cafe chargeable to the expenses of the business from July, 1927, to March 15, 1928.

Mr. McGee held a cardboard window sign toward the witness and asked what it was. The card bore the following words: "Notice—Quick draw every 15 minutes. $1,000 limit."

The witness said it was a quick draw card used at his place at 413 Powell Street.

Questioned closely, he admitted the largest winnings ever paid out were $225. The limit of $1,000 had never been paid.

"Where are the books of 413 Powell Street?"

"No books, replied the witness. He added the place had been closed in March.

EXPENSE LISTS

The witness said the "expenses" at 53 Powell Street were $250 for January, 1928, and for November and December, 1927, from $150 to $250.

"The scale of expenses for a place like 615 Davis, until October, 1927, was $50," asked Mr. McGee.

"Yes," replied the witness through the interpreter.

"And after October it increased to $150?"

"Yes, until January and February, then it was $50."

At 53 Powell Street, the witness said, answering questions, the "expenses" were from $150 to $250. At 645 Main they were $50 a month, but he did not remember an increase in October. He denied a suggestion of Mr. McGee that the "expenses" for this place had advanced to $200 in October; and when asked if they had increased to $150 then, declared he had never said there had been an advance at that place.

CLEARING HOUSE

Answering Mr. McGee, Chow Wong Lum once more denied he had received advance information about raids.

"What about this clearing house (at 53 Market Alley)?" asked counsel.

"I don't know the inside dope at all," said the witness. "I know there was a $4,000 limit. People marked tickets in our place and we sent them to the clearing house. This (indicating the list) shows the commissions coming to us."

DINNER DISCUSSION

The witness denied he had attended a banquet for Inspector Jackson when he returned to duty after being ill.

"I am instructed there were two dinner parties for Inspector Jackson, and that you were there," said Mr. McGee.

"Not a single time," said the witness. "Did you hear of them?"

"No."

"How many times have you met Inspector Jackson at the police station?"

"How could I remember?"

IMMIGRATION PERMIT LISTS ARE REPORTED

bers of Parliament had been followed by departmental inquiries before letters of admission had been issued, he said.

"How many such letters of admission have been granted?"

HUNTED BY POLICE

"Yes," the witness answered, "but not one of these passed our officers. They were detected at once. As soon as the case came to my office the matter was placed in the hands of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police and they are working on them."

He thought one of the persons implicated had already been apprehended.

SHORTS IN AERO STOCKS BLAMED FOR WILD RISES

New York, May 18.—Short interests are being trapped in both Curtiss and Wright, in both of which the share capitalization is small, and lends itself readily to running in shorts. That is the principal speculative attraction in a gamble in the aerospace stocks. Several speculators in this market. There is nothing that can be said about the future of the industry in general and these two companies in particular that could not have been said ten years ago. The industry is still in the speculative future as an industry. The situation for these two particular companies is also in the speculative future, and would be even if these merged, and the merger also took in the Junkers water-cooled engine types.

Commercial aviation to-day is back in this country as against Europe, and here aviation further advanced in 1919-1920 than now, as regards applied aeronautics in passenger traffic. Several aero passenger lines that operated in America have gone out of existence. For one reason most passengers rode for the novelty. A business must be built on a solid line than that. When it came to solidity, it developed that wealthy patrons who rode to save out time, got there O.K. on nine trips in the tenth trip the plane did not start on account of stormy weather, or landed in the water nearby. The type of passenger who can afford to ride in aero can never afford to ride in so undependable a medium. This is the greatest reason why the lines died.

In those years, too, many millions were spent for their own planes to get to Wall Street and the cotton exchange downtown. For the same reasons they quit.

The commercial use of the plane has expanded by way of carrying the mails and some express, and commercial passenger lines run from Los Angeles, and break even under very exceptional conditions, locally, there, but whether the business would pay elsewhere, or even continue to pay there is far from demonstrated. Also far from demonstrated is whether the present mail strait is carried by aero will, if the business expands, be able to compete against the steeper and bigger capacity lighter-than-air machine or so-called Zeppelin types.

In gazing into the future, it is well to look into the future but keep your feet pinned to earth. Over $100,000,000 was lost by visionary speculators in radio stocks in 1924-25. Their stocks are now worthless, but the radio industry goes far ahead of what they dreamed. Over $25,000,000 was lost by speculators of a visionary type in old Lake Torpedo, Holland Boat, and Submarine. Both sets of dreams were lost two years ago by speculators in Warner Brothers Pictures when they brought out their "Vitaphone" in collaboration with the Bell Telephone engineers, and several millions in "talking movies" were lost through DeForest Phonofilm.

Wordsmiths grew dumb trying to glorify the future, but they died in the present. Over $5,000,000,000 is the market value of motor stocks to-day (outside the Ford), and how would you find the words to describe the phenomenal growth of this business since twenty-five years ago, say in 1903?

Suppose you lived with the companies that drove from 1899 to 1905, like the old Locomobile, the old Haynes, the old Dodge, and their ilk, that are but memories to-day? Suppose you could have foreseen then with the enthusiasm you now have in Aero, that 9,000,000 automobiles would be in God's truth, be bought in 1928 in the United States. They would have taken you and others like you either in or outside of a madhouse to keep you from spending your hard-earned money in buying those stocks at $150 or $1,000 a share. Not one survived at all, except the Franklin, and what is Franklin common stock now?

Keep your feet on solid ground. Remember that despite (or shall we say because?) of the flights of Lindbergh, et al. the future of the aeroplane industry is still in the future, and remember there is not a word about the glorious future of the industry in general that could not have been said ten years ago, and then let it sort of sink into your head and trickle down to your feet, that the industry has gone back in the past ten years, in many respects, and there is a lot about the future that looked good ten years ago and is untenable now.

HARVESTER JUMPS; CAUFIELD STOOKER NEWS AIDS RISE

New York, May 17.—International Harvester Company stock jumped today, climbing seventeen points shortly after the opening of the market. It closed yesterday at 252. This morning it opened at 254 1/4; a few minutes later it was selling at 260.

Toronto, May 17.—"There goes one of my specialties," said Mr. Hudson, when International Harvester got under way this morning. "It will go to 350 in time."

Much interest was manifested in Victoria to-day in the rise in Harvester, not only because considerable of the stock is held here, but also because a factor in the rise is reported to be the success of the field stooker, which is a Victoria product and patent, and is now under manufacture at the Chicago plant.

World Sugar And Coal Inquiries Soon

Geneva, May 18.—An exhaustive inquiry into the crisis in the sugar industry by the League of Nations seems a certainty.

The special sugar committee of the International Economic Conference agreed yesterday upon the text of a resolution emphasizing the world-wide importance of the problem and the desirability for its urgent treatment and recommended the Council of the League to request the League's economic committee to undertake as soon as possible an investigation of all the factors in following the product, with the assistance of experts. The Council would then decide whether a special international conference would be the best means of finding a solution.

From January 1 to May 15 corporation produced 135,158 cars against 128,301 for the same period 1927; unfilled orders remain at 39,000 cars.

A.T.T. STOCK CROSSES 200

New York, May 17.—American Telegraph and Telephone stock on the news of the melon, this morning jumped sixteen points and crossed the 200 mark.

The stock has been climbing the last few days and yesterday closed at 194 1/4. This morning it opened at 197 1/4.

The company announced the largest offering of stock to shareholders in its history, with the rights to subscribe being equivalent to a million of more than $154,000,000. The plan involves the offering of $185,000,000 additional stock at $110 a share, proportioned to holders of present stock.

Business Increase Seen As Tightening Bond Market Funds

New York, May 17.—Trading was dull and featureless in the bond market to-day, with prices a bit easier. Traders were interested in a suggestion by the Federal Reserve bank that renewed business activity may be the cause of increasing stringency in the money market.

Bonds were rather neglected in early trading with prices of St. Paul issues and St. Louis and San Francisco 4 1/2, around which the little buying activity centered, unchanged. Eastern and Ohio convertible 4 1/2 made a small gain. New York traction again moved lower.

Copper company obligations were irregular. There was little or no change in the price of other industrial bonds.

Greek Government 6s attracted most of the buying in the foreign list, but were unchanged.

Reports from London said that Japan is negotiating for a loan of $100,000,000, half of which would be floated in this country through J. P. Morgan & Co. Company, but confirmation is lacking.

Ford Change-over Cuts Into Profits

Toronto, May 18.—Discontinuance of the old model and "V8" cars and trucks of the Ford Motor Car Company of Canada is reflected in the company's annual financial statement for the year ended December 31, 1927.

The profits for the twelve months were the equivalent of $2.45 a share only, contrasted with $76.30 a share in the preceding year. The balance sheet also indicates the changes in a striking manner. Cash on hand and Dominion of Canada bonds show an increase of $2,600,000, accounts receivable are down $3,600,000 and inventories show a reduction of approximately $2,400,000.

Total sales and other incomes amounted to $27,520,548, a drop of fifty per cent as compared with $54,254,619.

New Mining Journal Now Published in B.C.

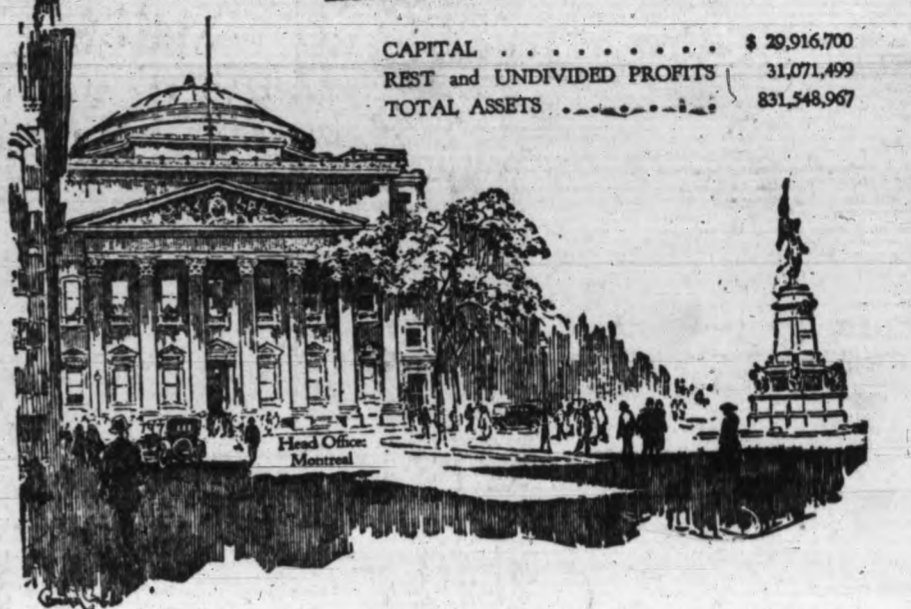

The first number of The British Columbia Miner, which its publishers have devoted to the interests of the mining industry of Western Canada in general and British Columbia in particular, has been issued. It is a well printed and illustrated, and is a most readable production. The main portion of the journal appeals to the professional engineer and mine operator, but one section is devoted to market news and another to the somewhat neglected subject of modern mining equipment. Development news from different parts of the province is furnished by special correspondents on the spot—an important point in an industry where much doubtful news finds its way into print.

The British Columbia Miner is brought out by the responsible firm of Gordon Black Publications Limited, 616 Metropolitan Building, Vancouver, B.C., publishers of The British Columbia Lumberman and The B.C. Municipal News.

MARKETS SOUGHT FOR B.C. FRUIT

Nelson, May 18.—Increased work will be necessary to find profitable markets for British Columbia fruit should the prospective bumper crops materialize this year, according to F. M. Black, chairman of the Interior Tree Fruit and Vegetable Committee of Direction, who was in Nelson yesterday.

In the matter of distribution the committee is outlining plans for a wide co-operation with women's organizations of consumers generally throughout the prairies, for all fruits, but particularly small fruits. Present indications suggest a cherry crop about four times as large as that of last year, and by making special efforts to increase the prairie consumers' interest in cherries to be made available to them, it is hoped to secure absorption of a large part of the surplus.

Present promise, Mr. Black said, was for an enormous apple crop, generally both in the southern interior and south of the international boundary line. If this was the case and unless there were compensating sales elsewhere, prices for apples could not but be lower.

CHAPTER II.

A lusty young baritone roared "Come in!" a summons which Vera Cameron, in spite of the strange new excitement which fluttered her usually well-controlled nerves, obeyed noiselessly, as all good private secretaries should.

She had entered so noiselessly on her rubber-heeled oxford that Jerry Macklyn had not heard her, and for a moment she was too astonished to apprise him of her presence. A husky young man, clean-shaven, and with his shirt sleeves rolled above the elbow, was hunched before a huge, flat-topped desk, which was completely covered with jars and bottles and powder boxes. Beneath his red hair one tanned cheek testified that nature had given him a complexion to harmonize with the sun-baked hair of his eyes, but the other was completely submerged under a thick coating of cold cream.

"I beg your pardon," Vera stammered, unable to make up her mind whether to laugh or to flee, leaving this astonishing young man to his shameless rites of beautification.

"Oh, hello, hello!" Jerry Macklyn's eyebrows descended, his startlingly blue eyes, which had been seriously contentedly playing his image in a hand mirror, flooded with the light of a totally unembarrassed smile.

"I'm Miss Cameron. Mr. Canfield assigned me to your department," Vera told him in cold, even tones—the impersonal voice which her favorite business women's magazine told her was the correct one for a private secretary to use toward her employer.

"Oh—are you?" The brilliant smile faded out of Jerry Macklyn's blue eyes as he took her in, noted the severe braids of her mousey brown hair, the unsmiling eyes behind horn-rimmed spectacles, the prim mouth, the austere black cloth suit, whose skirt chastely covered her legs.

Vera flushed with anger for the second time that day at being appraised and dismissed by an impertinent, hopeful male.

"Of course you are! Glad to have you," Miss Cameron, isn't it? Jerry Macklyn recovered his confusion by reaching into an open drawer of his desk for a towel, with which he began to rub his cold-creamed cheeks vigorously.

"Just getting acquainted with our line," he grinned at her. "Sure a fancy layout, isn't it?—Judas Priest! I didn't know you girls had to wade through all this truck before you were ready to make an appearance. Smells nice, doesn't it?" he asked sociably, the tip of his short, broad nose wrinkling as he sniffed the perfumed air about him.

"The perfume used in our cosmetics retails at eight dollars an ounce," Vera informed him.

"Gosh! That's right!" Jerry Macklyn finished scrubbing at his cold-creamed cheeks and attacked his rouged lips.

"A little of the cold cream rubbed into the lips will enable you to remove the rouge most effectively," Vera told him in even tones, which gave him half of the desire to laugh which was almost upsetting her morale as a perfect private secretary.

"Thanks for the tip," Jerry grinned cordially, for the girls were wary and shy, as if he had begun to realize that this impeccable young woman did not approve of him at all. His thick forefinger dug into the opened cold cream jar, brought up a lump big enough to cleanse his entire face and neck.

"Guess you know all the tricks, eh?" "I don't use lip rouge," Vera answered primly.

"Good thing for our business that all girls aren't like you," Jerry mumbled at her through the towel with which he was removing the latter of cold cream tinted with lip rouge.

"What I mean—" he added, as he noted the vivid flush of anger that swept over her pale, freckled face, "is that it's a good thing for us that a lot of girls are like you."

He pushed back his chair, rose, rolled down his sleeves.

"Did I say I was glad to have you, Miss Cameron?" We got a new work ahead of us. I asked for the cleverest girl in the outfit and they told me that was you. Now, if you'll transfer your belongings from Benham's department to mine, we'll get down to business. By the way, I wish you'd bring me all the pamphlets and other descriptive matter you can lay your hands on. And a sales report showing the relative popularity of the different articles we put out, as well as a chart showing the relative profit. I've got to do up a big national advertising campaign in double-quick time. And you're going to help me. I understand you know this business from A to Z."

While Vera was carrying out his instructions swiftly and accurately, she revised her first amused and contemptuous opinion of him. He was nobody's fool, and she sensed in his vital young body and the alert mind that gleamed through his brilliant blue eyes a capacity for work that more than matched her own. She would have to hustle to keep up with him, and that knowledge made her step buoyantly and with a light heart.

When she returned to his office he was standing before the exhibit of Peach Bloom cosmetics which he had accumulated on his desk, his flaming hair and brilliant blue eyes a capacity for work that more than matched her own. She would have to hustle to keep up with him, and that knowledge made her step buoyantly and with a light heart.

"Pretty things, aren't they?" he challenged her. "These black and gold bottles and jars and boxes, with that single spray of peach blossoms are the nicest things in the cosmetics line I've ever seen. Makes a girl feel pretty, luxurious to dig a hunk of cold cream out of this, doesn't it?" He lifted a black, squat round jar and turned it admiringly in his big hands. "Dull gold top, a gold band around the bottom, and that embossed spray of peach blossoms that look so real you want to pick 'em off and smell 'em. Ought to photograph like a million dollars, huh?"

"Here is a complete list of our products," Mr. Macklyn, with the comparative charts you asked for," Vera told him.

"Pretty names," he mused, as his bright eyes traveled rapidly down the list: "Peach Bloom Powder, in blonde, brunette, Tiltan and hazel shades—hazel! Guess that's your shade, isn't it, Miss Cameron?" I'd take Tiltan, I suppose," his boyish laugh rang out.

"If you hadn't interrupted me, caught me in the act of beautifying myself, I'd have tried it out. They've got the whole bag of tricks, haven't they—skin food, bleach, cleansing cream, hand lotion—what's this—Star Lash?"

"It's a mascara. It comes in both liquid and cake form. In four shades, blonde, Tiltan, brown and black. It is used to make the lashes look longer and thicker," Vera elucidated primly.

"Judas Priest! No wonder you girls are so irresistible. Tell you what, Miss Cameron, you write me a confidential report on our products, giving me the absolute low-down on 'em, from personal experience. I mean, and I promise nobody else will ever see it. Compare 'em with other brands. I like to know the truth about a line I'm writing copy for, so I can steer clear of the rocks, if there are any. And while you're doing it, I'll cast my eagle eye over these booklets and the descriptive stuff they wrap around the jars. Got to get acquainted with the stuff right away."

Vera sat for a long time before her typewriter, her hands lying idle in her lap, her face suffused with color. Finally, as if in desperation, she ran the sheet of paper into the machine and began to type furiously. When she had finished, she tore the sheet from the machine and marked into Jerry Macklyn's private office.

"That's absolutely all I know about Peach Bloom Cosmetics from personal experience," she said crisply.

Jerry Macklyn picked up the sheet of paper, read its few lines at a glance, then surveyed Vera Cameron coolly and critically from the crowning braids of her head to the broad toes of her flat-heeled, orthopedic oxfords.

"So you have never used any cosmetics except cleansing cream and face powder," he said slowly. "Hm-m! Now how the devil am I going to know whether this truck is any good or not? Good Lord, I can't really try it out on myself, as I usually do a product I'm planning a campaign for." He frowned, looked at her flushed face searchingly, then a wide grin stretched his boyish mouth. "I say, Miss Cameron, I've got a whole of an idea. You're my assistant, aren't you? Not just my secretary, but my assistant?"

"So Mr. Canfield said," Vera answered, her voice trembling with anger. She was going to hate this impudent young red head—

"Now, listen, Miss Cameron. Bend an attentive ear—oh, go! you can't! I mean, you can't bend an ear!" he grinned at her, his blue eyes sparkling with wicked glee, "your ears are held down too tight by that crown of yours. Say, I haven't seen a hairdresser like that since my sainted aunt went to her reward. Wait a minute! I apologize! Can't have you so sore at me already. Say, this is my proposition. If this stuff, I'm waving toward the fascinating array of black and gold boxes and jars—is one-tenth as good as Peach Bloom claims it is, then I can dope out the best doggone advertising campaign that ever hit this old town in the eye. With you!" he concluded triumphantly, pointing a forefinger at her with dramatic suddenness.

"If I shall be glad to help," Vera admitted simply and eagerly.

"Help! Why, you're going to be the star of this scenario, young woman!" Jerry Macklyn exclaimed. "You know what I'm going to do? I'm going to play Pygmalion to your Galatea—make a beauty out of you with Peach Bloom cosmetics, photograph you at every conceivable angle of transformation, and use the whole bunch of photos in a smashing series of national advertising layouts that will simply knock 'em for a goal!"

"But Vera Cameron did not wait. With eyes blazing and cheeks aflame, she glared at him for one devastating moment, then turned and fled.

More Ministers Needed For Church

Vancouver, May 18.—At last evening's session of the annual British Columbia conference of the United Church of Canada, the supply of men for the ministry was stressed. During the discussion of the report of the Union College, it was disclosed the institution would require thirty students in consecutive attendance, and that this number would mean the ordination of only five new ministers annually. In all Canada, said Rev. C. E. Manning, D.D., discussing the needs of the whole church, there had been but seventy-five men graduated of late, while about 120 ministers had retired.

Sunday, June 17, was designated for all local churches to make an appeal for recruits for the ministry.

The result, or partial result, of the work of the Canadian missionaries on the island of Trinidad was outlined by Rev. Dr. S. A. Fraser.

Progress of the United Church abroad was traced by Rev. Dr. Jesse Armp, foreign missionary department, Toronto.

Growth of the Women's Missionary Society was reported by Mrs. J. S. Gordon, president. She stated the full allocation of the British Columbia section had been attained.

Special grants recommended for extension in addition to the grant required for regular work would run this year to between $55,000 and $75,000, it was stated.

To Cruise Timber To Estimate Loss

Fernie, B.C., May 18.—Mrs. Justice Murphy yesterday ruled that the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company must make all cruises and do all work in estimating the loss, in the section of Murdoch and Pigeon against the Consolidated. In the Supreme Court and the Appeal Court of British Columbia rulings that the Consolidated Company was liable for the loss were made.

The action was to recover loss through destruction of timber by fire caused by a fire spreading from a Consolidated Company prospector's camp. The judge said he would make every effort to hold a special sitting in Fernie immediately upon judgment being handed down by the Supreme Court next January. If this should prove impossible, the case for assessment of loss must positively come up next May at the latest.

BEDTIME STORY

Uncle Wiggily and the Black Rock

Copyright, 1928, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

(By HOWARD R. GARIS)

The Fussy Fox and the Wiggly Wolf, hiding behind the door in the Wolf's den, waited and waited for Uncle Wiggily to come in and be nibbled. Every once in a while one or the other of the Bad Chaps would creep on his tippy-toes to the side window and look out. But Uncle Wiggily didn't hop along.

As you know, from reading the story last night, the rabbit gentleman, after reaching the Wolf's door, saw something wrong about it and hopped home to his Hungalow.

It was a feeling that the rabbit bunny uncle did not come along to have his ears nibbled, the Fox said:

"I shall be glad to help," Vera admitted simply and eagerly.

Pantry Scouting Late at Night

WHAT makes a man scout through the pantry late at night? He has a hungry feeling . . . yet ordinary foods do not appeal. Quaker Puffed Wheat, that's just what he wants.

Quaker Puffed Wheat entices appetite and satisfies hunger. Because of its lightness, it does not impose on the digestion. All the wheat bran is there, but delightfully concealed.

The man in the pantry likes the toasted, nutmeat flavour of these whole wheat grains. Puffed to eight times their natural size, and exploded, then cooked and oven-crisped. Serve direct from the package, or warm if you wish.

Quaker Puffed Rice, too

Rice grains, also puffed and exploded. Dainty and light. Easily digested. Always pleasing and inviting to the appetite.

Bishop's Course Is Upheld By Courts

Providence, R.I., May 18.—Official notice of the excommunication from the Roman Catholic Church was delivered yesterday to a majority of the sixty former members of the diocese of Providence, who, as signers of the bill of complaint, forced Right Rev. William A. Hickey, Bishop of the Diocese, to appear before the civil courts of this state.

The complainants contended the Bishop exceeded his authority in using portions of the funds of twelve parishes in the diocese for church uses outside of the parishes. The Rhode Island courts, including the Supreme Court, have upheld the Bishop's action.

IRRIGATION

One reason why the Italians are able to grow such a wonderful fruit and vegetables is that in the northern provinces of their country they have one of the most highly developed systems of irrigation in the world. The rivers draw their water from Alpine glaciers which melt when warmer weather begins.

By NEA, Through Special Permission of the Publishers of The Book of Knowledge, Copyright, 1922-24.

A great Italian statesman and patriot, Count Cavour, about the middle of the last century organized a complete system for distributing the water.

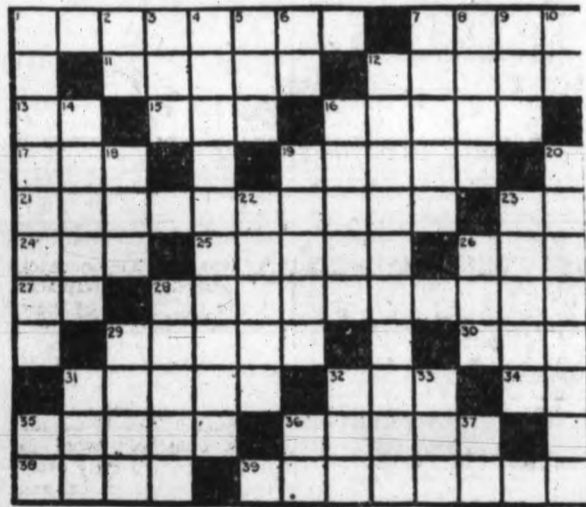

In each parish in the district is a council composed of landowners who irrigate. Each council sends two members to a central "water parliament."

The irrigated area is divided into districts, in each of which is an overseer and staff of watchmen who attend to opening and closing the gates which deliver the water into smaller channels. (To Be Continued.)

To-morrow's Horoscope

SATURDAY, MAY 19, 1928

Benefic aspects rule this day, according to astrology, but the eclipse of the sun is read as a sinister import.

This should be a fortunate day for dealing with life in its larger relations. Governors as well as the President of the United States should benefit. All who seek the support or approbation of influential persons should be active while this rule prevails. There is a sign of promise for all who engage in constructive work and all the aspects seem to prease such tremendous undertakings as the world has ever known. The new moon of this date comes with an eclipse of the sun in the Pleiades and is believed by the seers to prease great storms in places ruled by these stars. Southern Mexico, India and China may suffer from floods as well as unprecedented storms of great violence. The indications are that the weather in Europe will be unsatisfactory to tourists, for unusual spells of cold are forecast. Disaster is forecast for Luxembourg and Cologne, while France and the Netherlands may sustain certain severe misfortunes. The Soviet republic of Russia now comes under a direction of the stars which is most threatening to internal peace. Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of a favorable year, in which their affairs are satisfactory.

Children born on this day may be too easily led for their own good. The subjects of this sign are usually talented. (Copyrighted by McClure Newspaper Syndicate) There are 233,105 Christian organizations in the United States.

AT THE THEATRES

CAMPEAU PLAYS TYPICAL ROLE IN "THREE BAD MEN"

Frank Campeau, who plays one of the three typical old-time frontier desperadoes in the mammoth photodrama "Three Bad Men," which John Ford recently completed in the heart of the Mojave Desert, is one of the best delineators of the Western man ever seen on stage or screen.

His first great hit was as the villainous cowboy, "Trampas," in "The Virginian." Dustin Farnum, the popular star of that Owen Wister masterpiece, was amazed on the morning after the Broadway opening to find all of the critics in New York giving first credit to Campeau.

But in "Three Bad Men," which is being shown at the Variety Theatre, Campeau is at the very best of his entire career.

"HEART OF MARYLAND" AT PLAYHOUSE WITH FINE CHARACTERS

"The heart's eye the part eye, that makes us right or wrong," Robert Burns, and that would seem to be the opinion of Warner Bros. "Broken Hearts of Hollywood" and "Irish Hearts" has been supplemented with "The Heart of Maryland," starring Dolores Costello and directed by Lloyd Bacon, who also directed the first-named. "The Heart of Maryland" was adapted by Graham Baker from the Helasco stage classic of that name. The cast is large and the characterization includes Lincoln, Lee and Grant.

"The Heart of Maryland" is showing at the Playhouse to-day.

CAST OF CAPITOL PICTURE HAS WIDE SCREEN EXPERIENCE

The stage and screen experience of members of the cast of First National's "The Little Shepherd of Kingdom Come" now at the Capitol Theatre would, if combined into one continuous period, extend back to the days of Shakespeare, with a century or two to spare.

Seidom has such a large cast of experienced players been gathered for one picture. With the exception of Richard Barthelmess, star of the picture, and the juvenile players, every one has had extensive stage and screen experience.

Eulalie Jensen, who plays the role of the Southern mother, was with Bernhardt and Maude Adams at the height of their stage fame. Claude Gillingwater, David Torrence, Nelson McDowell and Martha Mattox were well-known stage players for years, later going into pictures.

Mark Hamilton was a famous vaudeville performer, as was Victor Potel.

MARY ASTOR PLAYS VAMP ROLE IN FILM NOW SHOWING HERE

Mary Astor's first departure from a career of demure and innocent roles was the indirect cause of confining her to her home for several days during the production of "Two Arabian Knights," current at the Dominion Theatre.

Her initial sophisticated effort is that of a seductive Oriental beauty. She never before had exposed quite so much of Mary. The costumes were beautiful before the camera, but hardly adequate to withstand the studio draughts and Mary soon was confined to her home with a severe cold.

William Boyd plays the principal male role in "Two Arabian Knights," a comedy-drama of post-war days. Louis Wolheim enacts a character comedy part as a hard-boiled first sergeant.

Michael Vavitch and DeWitt Jennings head a strong supporting cast.

Don't Make a Toy Out of Baby —Babies Have Nerves—

By RUTH BRITAIN

Much of the nervousness in older children can be traced to the over-stimulation during infancy, caused by regarding baby as a sort of animated toy for the amusement of parents, relatives and friends. Baby may be played with, but not for more than a quarter of an hour to an hour daily. Beyond that, being handled, tickled, caused to laugh or even scream, will sometimes result in vomiting and invariably causes irritability, crying or sleeplessness.

Fretfulness, crying and sleeplessness from this cause can easily be avoided by treating baby with more consideration, but when you just can't see what is making baby restless or upset, better give him a few drops of pure, harmless Castoria. It's amazing to see how quickly it calms baby's nerves and soothes him to sleep; yet it is purely vegetable—the recipe is on the wrapper. Leading physicians prescribe it for colic, cholera, diarrhoea, constipation, gas on stomach and bowels, feverishness, loss of sleep and all other "upsets" of babyhood. Over 25 million bottles used a year shows its overwhelming popularity.

With each bottle of Castoria, you get a book on Motherhood, worth its weight in gold. Look for Chas. H. Fletcher's signature on the package so you'll get genuine Castoria. There are many imitations.

SCENES OF BRITISH NAVY FEATURED IN COLISEUM PICTURE

Although not produced as propaganda for the navy, the Britannia Films production, "Second to None," at the Coliseum, presents many scenes illustrative of the work of the senior service apart from an intriguing story. But although the scenes taken on board the warships will prove wonderfully interesting, it is certain that the scenes taken in the Royal Naval Training Establishment at Shotley, by permission of the Admiralty, will be received with rounds of applause.

"Second to None" is the story of a newspaper boy whose ambition is to join the navy and rise to commissioned rank that he may win the hand of his former playmate, Moore Marriott. Benita Hume and Ian Fleming have the leading roles and the production was directed by Jack Raymond under the personal supervision of Miss Dinah Shore.

To give an added atmosphere to the picture, there is a prologue by the members of the Navy League of Canada, with Frederick Shepherd, Scottish tenor, as assisting artist.

Special scenery and effects are in evidence to give the correct naval atmosphere.

BLACKFACE ARTIST HAS FUNNY ROLE IN COLUMBIA MIX FILM

Capacity audiences rocked in their seats yesterday at the antics of Helme Conklin, blackface comedian, appearing in "Horseman of the Plains" at the Columbia Theatre. Conklin is cast as "Snowshoe," a colored dodge and duck artist, whose success in life depends on being able to make numerous opportunities to make a hit. His honest endeavors to aid Mix make him the laughing stock of the town. However, when he wins him the love of buxom Esmeralda, an ebony beauty, who later becomes Mrs. Snowshoe.

"SPEEDY" IS LATEST HAROLD LLOYD FILM COMING TO DOMINION

Harold Lloyd will celebrate the fifth anniversary of his advent into the field of independent motion picture "reductions" when "Speedy," his latest and funniest picture, released to Paramount, plays the Dominion Theatre next week.

Other stars before, and since Lloyd became an independent producer, have tried hard at going it alone, but with uncertain success. With his first picture, Lloyd made good, and he has been making good since. His initial independent offering was "Girl Shy," which he followed with "Hot Water," "The Freshman," "For Heaven's Sake," "Bartimeus" and now "Speedy." Rather an imposing list of productions, and all big box office successes.

Lloyd's background in the film business made almost a certainty that he would succeed as an independent producer. There is no one in the industry better qualified to make high-grade comedies for Lloyd's training through the years leaves him almost in a class by himself as a judge of humorous material. This is quite evident from the success he has had in selecting his stories from "Girl Shy" to "Speedy."

MOORE MARRIOTT HAS SAILOR-HERO ROLE AT COLISEUM

"Second to None," now current at the Coliseum, the Britannia Films production which features Moore Marriott in the role of the sailor-hero, opens with the burning of a tramp steamer from which the only survivor is an orphan girl stowaway who is picked up by the battleship Bellatrix and adopted by the vessel's commander. "Second to None" is founded on stories by "Bartimeus" and was filmed with the sanction and co-operation of the Admiralty, on H.M.S. Tiger, Champion, Tara and Tarpon and certain other auxiliary vessels. Moore Marriott, Benita Hume, Ian Fleming, Micky and Aggie Brantford, Johnny Butt and Alf Goddard are in the cast. In addition to the picture there is a prologue by members of the Navy League of Canada, Victoria branch, ably assisted by Frederick Shepherd, popular Scottish tenor.

Acids in Stomach Cause Indigestion

Create Sourness, Gas and Pain.
How to Treat.

Medical authorities state that nearly nine-tenths of the cases of stomach trouble, indigestion, sourness, burning, gas, bloating, nausea, etc. are due to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach. The delicate stomach lining is irritated, digestion is delayed and food rots, causing the disagreeable symptoms which every stomach sufferer knows so well.

Artificial stimulants are not needed in such cases and may do real harm. Try Laxative aside all digestive aids and instead take from any druggist some Bismuthated Malt and take a teaspoonful of powder or four tablets in water right after eating. This sweetens the stomach, prevents the formation of excess acid and there is no sourness, gas or pain. Bismuthated Malt (in powder or tablet form—never liquid or milk) is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to take and is the most efficient form of means for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion.—(Adv.)
